INSTALLATION OF COLUMBUS GRADUATE CHAPTER AND VISITATION TO BETA-PHI

By PROF. F. D. STOLL, Upsilon, Past Grand Ritualist

I am herewith submitting reports of my visit to Beta-Phi chapter at the Cincinnati (Ohio) College of Pharmacy, and of the installation of the Columbus (Ohio) Graduate chapter.

In our previous correspondence, the Grand Council suggested that I include visits to the chapters at Indianapolis, and West Lafayette, Indiana in my itinerary on my way to Columbus. Correspondence with Prof. Kotte in Cincinnati indicated that full attendance would not be possible or convenient on the date available for visitation since mid-term examinations were in progress. At Louisville we too were holding exams, so I concluded that since Saturday January 25 would be the only date available to me for visiting the Indiana chapters, that since students' attendance would be reduced by week-end work, studying for exams, week-end absences, . . . and furthermore, since exact and close timing would be necessary—and even so would allow me only about two hours at each chapter, it would be much better if I visited the Indiana chapters at some later date. I shall have to visit Purdue some time during the next semester. I can make the visits then with greater convenience to all concerned. Also, I shall have more time to spend at each place.

INSPECTION VISIT TO BETA-PHI CHAPTER AT CINCINNATI OHIO, JANUARY 26, 1939

I arrived at the Union Terminal at Cincinnati at 5:45 p.m. Thursday January 26, and was greeted at the station by Brothers: Prof. Chas. F. Henke, Jr., Prof. Bernard J. Kotte, and Regent Herman R. Grossmann. Their first act was to introduce me to the "Travelers' Greeter," a broadcast interviewer for radio station WCPO. In the brief five-minutes interview that followed, I took advantage of the opportunity to put Kappa Psi, also the Cincinnati and Louisville and Columbus College of Pharmacy "on the air."

After registering at the Gibson Hotel I joined my hosts for dinner at the Old Vienna Restaurant where we discussed informally various topics of mutual and fraternal interest. Later I was escorted through the Cincinnati College of Pharmacy and noted many improvements that have been effected since my last visit. At 11 P.M. the visit of inspection was formally begun.

Members present were: Brothers Chas. F. Henke, Jr., Bernard J. Kotte, and Edward Plogman of the faculty, Regent Herman B. Grossmann, Secretary, Miner S. Clark, and Brothers: H. G. Hussey, Edward Fahl, Carl Steidel, and John Williams.

The subject matter of the official form for chapter inspection was discussed in order, and the data and responses are recorded on the official form which constitutes a part of this report.

In group conference, the following items were discussed:

1. The group is highly pleased with the recent geographic redivision of the Fraternity into the present 15 provinces, and feels that the more compact regrouping of chapters into smaller nuclei should result in a better exchange of ideas among province membership; Beta-Phi bespeaks its desire to co-operate more effectively with the membership of its province.

2. Group discussion emphasized the potential value and benefits of co-operation as engendered via student membership and participation in fraternal activities . . . and recognizes that many of the problems of present-day pharmaceutical practice might be solved ere they arise if the younger generations of pharmacy graduates would only continue to practice the precepts they learned through their fraternal associations while student members.

3. It was suggested that THE MASK carry fuller coverage of chapter activities in the form of chapter letters, group pictures, news of graduated fraters, etc. The group feels that the present Editor-in-Chief is performing his duties and achieving results almost superhuman for one person; that a more active attitude on the part of the entire editorial staff—rather than allow the work to devolve upon one individual—would be desirable and result in lessening somewhat the heavy load carried by our central office.

4. Further discussion disclosed that the relations existing within the chapter, and between the Chapter and the College authorities, and between the chapter membership and the student body were most harmonious, and that Beta-Phi fraters enjoy an enviable and merited esteem at the Cincinnati College of Pharmacy.

A group picture of the Kappa Psi brothers was taken during the evening. Unfortunately the placement of the camera, and/or its angle was such that not all of Dr. Kotte's image was recorded upon the film. I regret very much that only half of Dr. Kotte shows on the picture, for he really gives all of himself to Kappa Psi. Prints of this picture have been sent to the Cincinnati members, and one copy will be sent to the Central Office for THE MASK.

The informal discussions following the recording of inspection data ended approximately at 2:00 A.M. of Friday, January 27, after which the group adjourned to join the members of the Cincinnati Academy of Pharmacy, and partook of the latter's refreshments, and met many of Cincinnati's leading and aggressive pharmacists.

INSTALLATION OF THE COLUMBUS (OHIO) GRADUATE CHAPTER

Upon receipt of a letter from the Central Office dated December 5, I wrote to Prof. R. L. McMurray of Ohio State University and received

SOME BETA-PHI MEMBERS WITH VISITING
REPRESENTATIVE OF THE GRAND COUNCIL,
PROF. F. D. STOLL

Front row: Regent H. Grossmann, C. Steidle, E. Detzel, Prof. E. Plogman, Prof. B. J. Kotte (showing half).

his reply dated January 21, describing the situation leading to the creation of a graduate chapter at Columbus, and accepting January 27 as the acceptable date for installation. Their original petition had been submitted, published in the November MASK, and had been approved by the Grand Council.

A nucleus of six earnest Kappa Psi graduates in Columbus recently organized informally to restore Kappa Psi to prominence and prestige, and a few preliminary meetings were held to discuss ways and means. Invitation was extended to all known members of Kappa Psi in Columbus, to consider reorganization of a Kappa Psi chapter at Ohio State and to participate actively in the formation of an active Kappa Psi graduate group.

Application for a charter was made and accepted, and the fifth meeting was scheduled for January 27, the date of installation. The purposes in organizing the Columbus Graduate chapter were to:

1. Encourage and support local Kappa Psi fellowship and continuity.
2. Prepare to revive Xi chapter, installed on May 21, 1925, and dormant since 1932.
3. Establish a permanent organization not dependent upon a constantly changing personnel.

On January 27, 1939, at 6:30 P.M., the following members: Edwin F. Huffman, Russel H. Meisse, Robert L. McMurray, Alfred W. Snider, Chester A. Stine met with Prof. F. D. Stoll, the installing officer, in the Faculty Club on the campus, for formal creation and installation.

Upon arrival in Columbus on Friday afternoon, January 27, I contacted Brother R. L. McMurray who met me and conducted me on a tour of the Ohio State campus and a visit of inspection of the Pharmacy Building.

At 6:30 P.M. the group assembled for dinner at the Faculty Club, and at 8:00 P.M. the meeting was formally called to order. The group then discussed in detail the reasons for organizing, the local situation, and the ways and means of dealing with its problems. Future plans were thoroughly discussed, the charter accepted, and the Columbus Graduate chapter officially created and acknowledged.

A group picture was then taken, and the meeting adjourned shortly before midnight.

The following morning, Brother McMurray graciously accompanied the installing officer on a visit to Brother H. L. Wellock who was confined to bed with a cold, and who had been very active in the preliminary work of organization, but unfortunately, unable to attend the installation meeting. We also called upon Brother C. M. Brown who had been convalescing from a recent operation.

We chatted a while with Brother Wellock, informed him of what had transpired the previous evening, and expressed our regrets at his involuntary absence, and our sincere wishes for his speedy recovery. We did not get to see Brother Brown for, shortly before our arrival, he had left his home to make his first post-operation call to his physician's office. We did exchange a few pleasantries with him via phone, and are happy to report that he is responding nicely to treatment.

Brother McMurray was gracious to the last minute accompanying the installing officer to the railroad station in sufficient time to make connection.

MANKIND AND MEDICINES

ANTON HOGSTAD, JR.

Man draws freely from the animal, vegetable and mineral kingdoms for aid in the treatment and prevention of disease. His attention was first attracted to plants as a source of medicines. It is said that there is a plant for the treatment of every disease known. This, of course, is a broad statement. The fact remains, however, that there are hundreds upon hundreds, yes—even thousands, of plants which man has found to possess medicinal virtues.

Man's first knowledge of the value of plants in the treatment of disease was, no doubt, inherited from pre-historic ancestors and by observing the action of domesticated animals in time of sickness. It is a known fact that animals will seek out certain herbs when in need of a purgative or an emetic. Cats, have a special fondness for catnip and for valerian. Dogs are attracted to anise and certain of the grasses for their medication.

After man's first acquaintance with the fact that certain plants were useful in the treatment of disease, he embarked upon a heroic, though often disastrous, procedure that was to carry him through a school of bitter experience. He would try this and he would try that herb as medicines. At times the plant of his choosing would relieve his distress while at other times it would not only fail as a cure but would cause death.

The natives of Africa and of South America long ago learned to make use of poisonous plants in the preparation of deadly concoctions for the purpose of slaying enemies. Our American Indians were adept in the use of poisonous plants as a defense against animals and enemies. The blow gun of the South American Indian is an example of the present day use of poisonous plants as a measure of defense. Blow gun arrow poison is prepared from a vine known as virari and causes almost immediate death to an animal whose skin is cut by the head of an arrow which has been dipped in this poison.

The African "ordeal bean" is another example of a poisonous plant employed by natives for other than medicinal uses. The seed of this plant, which is found growing along the West coast of Africa, is known as physostigma or Calabar bean. It received the name "ordeal bean" because certain native Africans will submit to trial by the "ordeal bean" rather than by a jury of fellowmen. These Africans believe that justice is best served by the accused drinking a draught prepared from the "ordeal bean." If the alleged criminal survives it proves he was innocent whereas if he should die from the effects of the poison it is proved beyond doubt that he committed the crime.

Poison hemlock, or conium in the nomenclature of your pharmacist, is historically one of the most famous of all drugs. This drug was employed when Socrates was put to death.

There are many strange doctrines that form part of the interesting history of pharmacy and medicine. One of the most interesting is the doctrine of signatures. According to this doctrine a plant is employed because of its resemblance to a particular organ of the human body. Thus liverwort was long considered a panacea for liver afflictions because the leaves of the plant are "liver shaped." The brown color of the underside of the liverwort leaf only adds proof to its efficacy as a medicine. By the same process of reasoning walnut shells were long looked upon as good for a broken skull because the hardness and markings of the shells resembles the hardness of the skull and the convolutions of the brain. During the Middle Ages brave and bold knights wore the sword-shaped leaves of the Gladiolus plant as a charm against becoming a casualty on the field of battle. In olden time uses of hundreds of plants were classified according to the resemblance of the plant to parts of the human body. Even today American exporters of ginseng have to use great caution in the shape of roots shipped to China, for the Chinese believe that roots of a given shape alone are effective.

Another strange and persistent belief is in the power of drugs to drive away evil spirits. One does not have to travel far, especially in certain sections of the South, before he runs across a child wearing a bag of asafetida around the neck . . . placed there by a loving mother in the belief that the drug will drive away evil spirits causing disease. One only has to smell asafetida to appreciate that it has great "driving away" properties. A necklace of Job's tears has long been used to keep away kidney stones, while many an otherwise intelligent person will bank upon a necklace of genuine amber as a specific for simple goiter.

European mandrake is another drug with a long and interesting history. It is believed by many that Adam's "deep sleep" was induced by mandrake at the time that he lost the rib from which Eve was created. At one time, not so far in the past, it was believed that there were two kinds of mandrakes—male and female. And it was considered quite disconcerting to get the sex of the roots mixed when preparing them for patients. One also had to use caution in collecting mandrake roots. The orthodox method was for one to steal forth in the dead of night . . . tie a dog to the plant by means of a strong cord and then as the dog pulled the plant from the ground to blow violently on a horn. The horn blowing was for the purpose of keeping evil spirits at a safe distance for these were about to visit death upon the digger of mandrake.

The history of drugs is virtually a history of the human race for Man has employed drugs of one sort or another since times immemorial. Today a large portion of our vegetable drug supply comes from various European countries. A number of drugs are collected in North America. Cascara a well known purgative comes from areas on the Pacific coast, Digitalis or Foxglove grows in abundance in the far Northwest states. Hundreds of medicinal plants are native to the Carolinas and adjacent states. Ginseng, that drug that plays such an important part in the lives of the Chinese is cultivated to a great extent in this country. The export figure of this drug is far in excess of a million dollars each year. Golden Seal or the Yellow Puccoon of the North American Indian constitutes another drug quite widely cultivated in this country.

Although many of the vegetable drugs used in medicine are of European origin, a vast number are native of America. An ever increasing number are being cultivated by the American drug grower on account of the work being accomplished by the research departments of various colleges of pharmacy. The work accomplished by faculty and students at some of the universities during the World War has resulted in the establishment of successful drug farms. One of the schools of pharmacy has fostered valuable research in the cultivation of American worm-seed, as well as extractive methods of obtaining the essential oil from the plant. This oil is useful in the treatment of hookworm disease. Other colleges of pharmacy maintain drug gardens for the study of drug plants, while the work of faculty and students of the several schools on essential oils has received world-wide recognition. Some twenty-four colleges of pharmacy in the United States maintain medicinal plant gardens for educational and research work.

Many advances have likewise been made in the field of medicinal chemicals. Ether and chloroform occupy places of prominence as does Novocaine, the substitute for the poisonous cocaine as obtained from Cocoa leaves, the Divine plant of the Incas.

During the past few years rapid advances have been made in the search of a more ideal anesthetic. There are a number of so-called spinal anesthetics in use today which are becoming valuable agents in the hands of the medical fraternity. These modern spinal anesthetics remove the objectionable procedure of inhalation.

Back of the prescriptions handed patients by physicians to be compounded according to the fine art of the Apothecary is a story filled with romance and mystery, science and skill at every turn in the road. It is a story that has engaged the attention of man for all times past and will continue to engage his interest and attention for all times to come. The R at the top of the prescription blank . . . or, "Take thou" . . . is more than a mere symbol . . . it has been a symbol from "the time of Jupiter" that constitutes another very interesting story.

FRATERNITY PLANS SMOKER TONIGHT

The Mu Chapter of the Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical fraternity of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy will hold its annual smoker tonight at the fraternity house, 220 Aspinwall Avenue, Brookline.

The Kappa Psi scholarship will be awarded by Dean Howard C. Newton to the member of the fraternity who has the highest scholastic standing.

Guest speaker will be Francis Sweeney of the narcotic division of the Boston police department. Special guest will be Heber W. Youngken, grand regent of the fraternity's national organization.

Horace L. Johnson is chairman of the committee, assisted by Russell MacDonnell and George Russell.—Boston Traveler, Thursday, January 19, 1939.

CLIPPED "WORTHWHILES"

Happiness in this world depends chiefly on the ability to take things as they come.

Our business in life is not to get ahead of others, but to get ahead of ourselves.

Opinions should be formed with great caution, and changed with greater.

To be content with little is difficult; to be content with much, impossible.

Peace cannot be kept by force. It can only be achieved by understanding.

† Boston Latin School, formed in 1635, is the oldest American High School in existence.

† There have been serious objections to the fraternity's intrusion into a field of subsidy. There are strong objections to any fraternity pledging an athlete solely on account of the man's athletic ability. Usually such men turn out to be financial as well as scholastic liabilities.

† Many prominent fraternity men and women are fearful that Dr. Hutchins' "Philosophy of Education" will gain headway; that if it does there will be a return to the old idea of the "liberal education"; and that this will be reflected upon the future of the general fraternity system. If higher education devotes itself to the study of the classics and ancient languages, is it possible that fraternities will revert to the small, intimate, carefully chosen chapters whose prime principle is classification of class friendship?

There are those of us who believe that this philosophy will not prevail and that the future of fraternities depends upon their ability to give service not only to their members but to the colleges and universities where they have chapters and to society at large.

† Few fraternities seem to realize that since 1930 over two hundred chapters have passed out of existence. This constitutes a mortality of nearly ten per cent. Few fraternities have in no way been directly affected. However, it is the general opinion that a number of chapters are running too large and that in many instances there are too many chapters on too many campuses. The tendency seems now to be toward quality rather than quantity.

It is also recognized that the mortality of pledges is entirely too great. It is understood that of every three men pledged only two are initiated. This situation is worthy of the attention of fraternities.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF KAPPA PSI PHARMACEUTICAL FRATERNITY

Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity was founded at the Medical College of Virginia on December 15, 1879. The organization was the first Greek-letter society established in the colleges of pharmacy in the United States. It is a strictly pharmaceutical fraternity which limits its chapters to colleges of pharmacy holding membership in the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. There are two classes of chapters, viz., collegiate and graduate. The chapters of both classes have equal rights and privileges. The governing body, called "Alpha Chapter" or The Grand Council, is first on the chapter roll.

The Fraternity is governed by "Alpha Chapter" or the Grand Council which has met in annual conventions from 1879 to 1908, until 1922 biennially, and since then every four years. During the interim between sessions, the administration of the fraternity affairs is in the hands of the Grand Officers. The provinces meet in conventions during years other than the national convention years.

The Fraternity colors are scarlet and cadet gray. The flower is the red carnation. The badge is a diamond displaying a mask raised from the face of the black enamel center. DR. WILLIAM HENRY GLOVER, Mu

Dr. William Henry Glover, a recent initiate of Mu Chapter, was born in Springfield, Massachusetts, June 20, 1871.

In early life he moved to Lawrence where he resided ever since. He graduated from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy in 1892 with the degree of Ph.G. In 1898 he bought the Whitney Pharmacy of which he is still proprietor. His store is of the professional type and manufactures many of the galenical preparations. It is located in the Bay State Building, 299 Essex Street, Lawrence, Massachusetts.

DR. WILLIAM HENRY GLOVER

Brother Glover has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, since 1906 and President of the College from 1922 to 1937, an office he filled with honor and dignity. He joined the American Pharmaceutical Association in 1891, is a life member of this organization and served as Chairman of its Section of Practical Pharmacy from 1916-1917. For many years he has been a member of the N.A.R.D., the Boston Druggists Association, the Massachusetts State Pharm. Association and the Boston Association of Retail Druggists.

He is a past officer of several Masonic bodies and has been honored with the 33rd degree.

In 1933 he received the degree of Doctor of Pharmacy, honoris causa, from his Alma Mater in recognition of his long service to professional pharmacy and to the College.

FRUITLESS LIVES

By H. MILLER LEHMAN

We have all heard men and women of fine minds, kind hearts and strong bodies say:

I can do nothing to improve the world; nothing to lighten the burdens of mankind; I have no ability; no influence; no sense of what needs to be done; my small effort could accomplish so little that it would be of no appreciable value.

Such words are mere excuses. The truth is that these individuals are inordinately consumed with their own selfish desires and have no concern for the needs of our chaotic world. They are too devoid of love for their fellowman to reach out a helping hand to him even though he stands upon their doorstep crying for bread or begging a cup of cold water. To the question "Am I my brother's keeper?" they answer "No." They are too apathetic or too lazy to exercise whatever ability they do possess; they produce nothing; they give nothing and the world is no better because they have passed this way. Their unproductiveness is not due to lack of ability, but to lack of interest and unselfishness. Like the barren tree they, too, may be cut down and cast aside.

Many fathers and mothers are yielding unprofitable returns. We are too occupied with the demands of our business, our ambitions, careers or pleasures to give time to our children—to teach them and reason with them. A good gardener spends much time with his plants—watering, weeding, pruning, fertilizing, training the young tendrils. Children need the same loving attention, care and supervision from an intelligent gardener-parent.

We adequately feed, house and clothe our children, perhaps, then fail them when we neglect to inculcate the highest moral, ethical and spiritual ideals. This is a task which fathers often shirk, but for which they are nevertheless responsible. In order that we may have more time for our own pursuits we also give our boys and girls excessive freedom. As a result of their unrestrained and unguided liberty many of these sons and daughters are getting themselves into social difficulties which will tarnish or ruin their entire lives. What sort of fruit, then, are some parents bearing? If public records are a fair criterion, we are handing to the world a poor, worm-eaten crop of juvenile delinquents.

It is useless to point out an undesirable condition unless a remedy is also offered. What can you and I do to make the world better? Un-numbered things need to be done. No one can estimate in its entirety his own ability. We do know, however, that "where there's a will there's a way," and to us who "will" to do something constructive in the world, the way will open speedily for its accomplishment, and the gate of opportunity will surely swing wide.

If we have creative or intellectual ability; if we are possessed of energy, originality, personality, determination, initiative, or that rare quality of commonsense, we are divinely fitted for great achievement, and this muddled old world can well make use of our talents. If we develop them, and put them into action, they will prove themselves sufficient compensation for any misfortune. We then not only can rise to new heights ourselves, but can spur less able individuals to new levels of thought and endeavor by blazing for them the trail.

To alleviate deplorable labor conditions in sweat shops and mills, or to correct the environment of slums may not be the specific task for you or me, because we have no aptitude for such work. We may belong to the class of "one talent" servants. Yet if we are minded to use our talent, however small, we can leaven the misery of the entire world. Each of us certainly has the ability to smile at one who is friendless or to extend to him the handclasp of fellowship; to devote an hour to one who is sick; to speak kindly to one who is discouraged; to think charitably of him who is misjudged; to deal leniently with an erring one; or to give freely of our thoughtfulness, love, sympathy and understanding to those in need of such benefits.

Countless persons are starving; others are dying at the hands of oppressors; whole races are crushed, broken and all but annihilated because of Force and Injustice, while you and I live comfortably—smugly—with no thought but for ourselves.

We have received much, and “unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required.” We are living in days of unparalleled stress and need. In such times we dare not live for ourselves alone, taking all and giving nothing back to life. We must give in proportion to what we have received, or more, and if we do “bear fruit” according to our individual ability, we may be confident of a reward which shall exceed our greatest expectations.

“Well done, good and faithful servant,” would have been welcome words to the ears of the “fruitless” one who was “cast into outer darkness.”

DR. IRVING P. GAMMON, Mu

Dr. Irving P. Gammon was born in Naples, Maine, September 20, 1862. There he received his early education, graduating from Bridgton Academy. He then came to Boston, where he entered the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, graduating in 1889. The same year he engaged in the drug business in Roxbury, where he still continues. He also operates two stores in Brookline. In 1901 he was elected a member of the State Legislature. Later he served on the Massachusetts Board of Pharmacy for five years. He has been a trustee of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy for many years and, from 1904 to 1909 served the College as President and has been its Treasurer since 1929. He is a member of the A.Ph.A., and local pharmaceutical associations. He belongs to many fraternal and business organizations, is a member of Harvard Congregational Church and resides at 1521 Beacon Street, Brookline with his wife and son. In 1930, the honorary degree of Phm.D. was conferred upon him by his Alma Mater in recognition of his distinguished service.

"ALL FOR ONE, ONE FOR ALL"

"ALL FOR ONE, ONE FOR ALL"

Every initiate of the Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity has had his attention called to the scroll at the bottom of the Kappa Psi Coat-of-Arms and just above the reproduction of the Kappa Psi Badge on the Insignia—the scroll which bears the Greek for "All for one, one for all." Heed it!

OFFICE OF THE GRAND REGENT

Boston

January 26, 1939

To the Officers and ALL Members of ALL Chapters:

Kappa Psi has entered the New Year with a firm resolution to carry on its upward march of healthy progress resumed as the depression waned a little more than a year ago. Several of our chapters which have been dormant are being revived and many of the active chapters are strengthening their membership and finances.

The task of organizing the 15 new Provinces is progressing nicely and a new era in the history of our Fraternity appears in the making. Our National Fraternity will never be stronger than the sum total of the strength of its component chapters. Your chapter is a very important organ in this organization and your Grand Council feels its pulse beat in its every action, rejoicing in its successes, saddened in its reverses.

It is our purpose to strengthen the foundations of our Fraternity by enhancing its value to its members. If fraternity membership is to be permanently valued by our boys, the chapter must do more than furnish a copy of the Constitution and By-Laws, a smoker and a few other forms of social activity during the college year. While all of these are desirable and should be continued, they are also ephemeral and, after they are once enjoyed are forgotten as time passes on. These are not the things which are apt to bind the brother's interest to the Fraternity, after he leaves college. The real lasting things one gets out of the fraternity are the lessons it teaches, the friendships made between the brothers which are often influential in later years, and the helpful contacts the members of the chapter and Grand Chapter can provide for his personal advancement.

We believe the lessons the Fraternity teaches should receive more emphasis and that the meetings of some of our chapters can be made more interesting to the brothers by the use of the Opening and Closing the Chapter portions of the Ritual at every regular chapter meeting. In the November 1938 issue of THE MASK, I have called attention to the duties of each chapter in this particular and I hope your chapter is carrying out this mandate.

Our Grand Council is desirous of having one of its representatives visit each chapter at least once a year for the purpose of acquainting its members with the progress of our national work and for the inspection of the chapter. In order to carry out this important project soon, sufficient funds in the form of Grand Council Membership Fees and monthly dues must be forthcoming from the delinquent chapters. None of our national officers receives a cent of salary. Moreover, every chapter should pay its Agora Assessment promptly in order that the work of drafting and distributing this Directory of members may be brought to a quick consummation. Brother Charles E. Wilson of Corinth, Mississippi, has been working with the Central Office on the compilation of the Agora for sometime. Will you please see that any changes in the addresses of brothers are sent him so that the work may be up-to-date when issued.

It seems very necessary for the welfare of our chapters and their members that each chapter elect from its faculty or graduate members a Grand Council Deputy whose duties shall be to advise the chapter on its financial matters, inspect the books of the chapter at regular intervals, etc. Poor financing has been the chief cause of the downfall of some of our chapters. Alumni who have supported the chapter financially lose interest when this happens. If your chapter has not elected this officer, will you please do so at your next regular meeting and report his name to the Grand Secretary. Before the Grand Council Deputy is selected, his willingness to carry out the duties expected of him should be ascertained.

In the organization of your Province, if not as yet organized, it is expected your chapter will be represented at the Province meeting either by a representation or by proxy. As the new Provinces are organized, it is anticipated that the constituent chapters will be brought into closer contact and that visitations will be made inter se and also by the Satrap of the Province. This should stimulate greater interest in fraternity work.

I hope each of the brothers will work in harmony with the officers of his chapter, that the spirit of helpfulness in studies and brotherly love will prevail, and that the slogan of "One for all and all for one" will lead your chapter on to the completion of the best year in its history.

Fraternally yours,

HEBER W. YOUNGKEN, Grand Regent
179 Longwood Avenue,
Boston, Massachusetts.

REPORT OF THE GRAND SECRETARY AND TREASURER*

July 1, 1938

*To the Grand Officers and Members of Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity,
Assembled at Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis, Minnesota.*

GREETINGS:

Your Grand Secretary & Treasurer regrets that his participation in the Program of the XIth International Physiological Congress scheduled for the week of August 14 at Zurich, Switzerland, will prevent him from attending the meetings of the American Pharmaceutical Association and Allied Bodies, and the luncheon or dinner-meeting of the members of Kappa Psi who will be in attendance at the A.Ph.A. meetings, to be held August 19-27 at Minneapolis. He has requested Brother Charles E. Wilson to present this report, and to make the usual arrangements for the luncheon or dinner-meeting of Kappa Psi through the local Secretary at Minneapolis.

It is indeed gratifying to be able to make a report for the period beginning July 1, 1937 and ending July 1, 1938 which is the best report we have made since 1925, when Kappa Psi was reorganized as a strictly pharmaceutical fraternity, the medical chapters having that year been organized into a separate, independent, distinct, exclusively medical fraternity. We were "rash" enough to forecast the "best-ever" year, and the results go far beyond even our anticipations! And all of this is due to the splendid work of a goodly proportion of our active chapters, a few of our graduate chapters, chapter officers and individual members, newly appointed and elected Province Officers, national committeemen, and the Grand Officers, all under the able leadership of our illustrious Grand Regent, Brother Heber W. Youngken. For without this co-operation, the Central Office could accomplish but little, by itself.

Brief comment will be made first on the individual chapters. (Note: At the suggestion of Grand Regent Youngken, the individual brief reports on each of the collegiate chapters are omitted from this printed copy of this report to save space and expense, and to avoid possible embarrassment of delinquent chapters, all chapters having been officially informed of their status.)

The foregoing reports show this interesting comparison between 1936-1937 and 1937-1938:

Session:	No. Chap. Dormant	No. Chap. Pd. O	No. Chap. Pd. Some
'36-'37	11	12	22
'37-'38	10	8	27

Session 1938-1939 promises an even greater development and improvement among our active chapters

A word or two about Kappa Psi publications:

THE MASK: Our improved financial status enabled us to publish a larger and, we believe, better MASK. Unreported changes of address on the part of our graduates continues to be the major difficulty in distribution. Our graduates as a whole seem to be unaware of the fact that the post office will not notify us when and where they move. And the other major problem, often discussed in the pages of THE MASK, is the payment by the initiate of his MASK subscription to his chapter, but the failure of the chapter to forward it to the Central Office. If we could eliminate or greatly reduce these two factors, then a great deal of unnecessary correspondence, "gripes," and loss would be eliminated at the same time.

The Agora: Brother Wilson has been doing and is doing a great deal of work on the revision of our Directory. The Central Office is also concentrating on this revision work, and we anticipate having the revision in press by late fall. Many chapters do not seem to realize that the accuracy and completeness of their part of the revision is largely dependent on the individual chapters, for they are the sources of the major portion of the data (names and addresses of members) published. If an individual wishes to be sure that the information concerning himself is correct in The Agora, he can do so by dropping a postal card to the Central Office. We are grateful to Doctor Wilson for his fine work on The Agora revision.

The Constitution: The much-needed revision and reprinting of our Constitution were accomplished during the past session, and all chapters were provided with an adequate supply for distribution to their members. This was a real job, and the Central Office is glad that we now have the Constitution revised to date, for now all members may inform themselves of the details of both Constitution and By-Laws. Many copies were distributed among interested graduate members, too.

The Brief History: We definitely plan to have the revision of The Brief History out during the early fall. This is a great aid to our chapters in rushing.

The Songbook: This will be printed just as soon as our members contribute the songs. We have nothing to print as matters stand. If our membership really wants a songbook, then they must write and compose the material.

Membership Certificates: Every 1938 graduate whose chapter sent in the list of 1938 graduates in good standing has been mailed his membership certificate. There has been considerable confusion about membership certificates, largely because of the failure of some chapters to send in the requested list, as well as because of wrong addresses and "moved—left no address."

The Ritual: It probably will be necessary to reprint The Ritual during the coming session, and the Central Office will appreciate all suggestions as to improvement in this important publication of Kappa Psi.

THE FINANCIAL REPORT for the period beginning July 1, 1937 and ending July 1, 1938 follows:

Cash on hand 7/1/37$1,964.72

Receipts: 7/1/37 to 7/1/38:

Per Capita Tax (monthly dues, October-May) ..	$1,029.50

MASK Subscriptions	1,254.00
Agora Assessments	72.00
Jewelry Ads,	30.46
Sale of Chapter Supplies	10.00	2,753.96
Total Amount to be accounted for:		4,718.68

Expenditures: 7/1/37 to 7/1/38:

Postage and P.O. Box Rent	169.83
Office Supplies	67.47
MASK	966.76

Stenographic Assistance—All Grand Officers ..	295.76
Printing Revised Constitution, etc.	286.46
Total Amount Expended	2,041.34
Balance on Hand	2,677.34

(Note: The Report of the Auditing Committee is attached herewith.)

Copies of this report will be sent, as usual, to all chapters for their permanent records and files. All chapters are urged to carefully preserve the copies of all national reports, as well as their own reports, for future reference.

The comparisons below are of decided interest, and definitely show the consistent upward trend of Kappa Psi's growth and activities, its numerical strength and its financial status during the periods shown:

Balance end of first 3-year period following the reorganization

(1925-1928)	$ 536.64
Balance end of second 3-year period (1928-1931)	1,051.39
Balance end of third 3-year period (1931-1934)	819.78
Balance end of fourth 3-year period (1934-1937)	1,964.72
BALANCE end of period 7/1/37 to 7/1/38	2,677.34

The end of the current 3-year period (1937-1940), barely one year of which has passed, ought to show Kappa Psi in still more firm financial condition, if the conservative policies now in vogue are continued.

Kappa Psi has come safely through a very difficult period of reorganization (1925-28, when the old Kappa Psi Fraternity, medical-pharmaceutical, was reorganized into the Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity and the Theta Kappa Psi Medical Fraternity—two separate, independent bodies), and through an even more difficult depression period with flying colors, and the future is indeed bright. Our faith in Kappa Psi and in what the Fraternity stands for, and in the leadership and the policies instituted to meet the difficulties of the times, is justified. Kappa Psi today is at the top—the peak the Fraternity has never relinquished through the years, while organizations galore are today badly crippled or have “given up the ghost.” Kappa Psi today is firm and solid, and the coming session of 1938-39 should witness an official visitation of every collegiate chapter; the revival of Iota (S.C.), Xi

(O.S.U.), Tau (S. Calif.), Beta-Eta (W.Va.), Beta-Nu (Creighton), Beta-Omicron (Wash.), Beta-Psi (Wis.), Gamma-Gamma (Texas), and Gamma-Epsilon (Neb.) ; the reactivation of the eight chapters who did not meet any of their financial obligations of the past session ; a closer approach to 100 per cent on the part of the 27 chapters who did pay at least a portion of their obligations ; a revised Ritual, a new edition of The Agora, a larger MASK, a new Brief History, and possibly a Songbook. Incidentally, the last four numbers of THE MASK total 128 pages with 22 illustrations, as compared with the previous four numbers which totalled 68 pages with 16 illustrations. The July, 1938 issue, which we are deliberately delaying until August in order to bring it closer to the college reopening month (September), is now in the mails, and is the largest number we have published in several years—48 pages.

The Provinces: The reorganization of the Provinces into smaller territories, instituted by our Grand Regent, Dr. Youngken, has made excellent progress, and the coming session should see the completion of the reorganization with all Provinces functioning. This is important work indeed, for with the Provinces now of reasonable size, these units of the Fraternity ought to prove the greatest single factor in the improvements and the developments to come.

The 60th Anniversary National Convention: We have started pointing toward the National Convention of 1939-1940 to be held during the Christmas holidays of that session by vote of the chapters, which will celebrate the 60th anniversary of the founding of Kappa Psi, and the 35th anniversary of the establishment of THE MASK. This event will be the biggest and greatest event in Kappa Psi history since 1879.

In closing, the Grand Secretary and Treasurer desires to express his thanks to the chapter officers, to numerous graduate members and faculty members, and to all of the National Officers for their fine co-operation, as well as to Brother Charles E. Wilson, assistant to the G.S. & T., and to the national committeemen. Please accept by best wishes and kind regards, and be assured of my continued wholehearted efforts in carrying out the duties of the Central Office, and in furthering the development and advancement of our KAPPA PSI.

Fraternally yours,

(Signed) A. RICHARD BLISS, JR., Grand Secretary-Treasurer
