From the Editor

This issue of the MASK contains many interesting articles. First is one on Delta Lambda at Campbell University. It is one of our newest chapters and certainly one of our most active. The article should be useful for all Brothers. Their chapter has set an example for all to follow. I have become aware of their activities through chapter news articles for the MASK. Now, I am convinced that many of our chapters are doing as much, they simply do not publicize it as well. I encourage all chapters to submit chapter news and toot their own horn. Also in this issue is a new feature, 'The Golden Circle' which will appear from time to time written by our senior members. Brother Glen Sperandio has graciously and eloquently written the first. These articles should help remind us of our strong Kappa Psi heritage. Also in this issue is an article by Grand Vice-Regent Paul Hiller on Grand Council Deputies. He reminds us that they all deserve a thank you from us. Perhaps, you should take yours out to lunch? As always your comments and criticisms of the MASK are expected and appreciated.

PRIDE

Pride is defined by Webster as "Pleasure or satisfaction taken in something done by or belonging to oneself of behavior to reflect credit on oneself." When was the last time you really experienced pride in your Fraternity? When was the last time you accomplished something that made the Fraternity proud of you? While these two questions may appear to be directly opposed to each other in fact they are totally intermingled. HOW?

When we give of OURSELVES to worthy projects whether they are civic, professional, fraternal or university related—PEOPLE benefit. By becoming involved you have given something no one else can give or that any amount of money can buy—personal TIME. When you give your time for worthy causes or projects people notice because time is so valuable, probably more so than money. It is through our involvement in these causes and projects that an enormous amount of satisfaction is realized because PEOPLE are positively affected and isn't that what we are really about—helping people.

Over the years Kappa Psi and the profession of Pharmacy have continually given and given. Peoples lives have been and will continue to be affected for the better because of our actions in lending that helping hand. The time we give to helping others is precious and valuable however the inner rewards each of us receives are not only precious and valuable but also memorable. There is no way to describe the feelings you will get when the words of thanks and appreciation are expressed by someone affected by your actions.

PRIDE Your Fraternity will give you many opportunities to realize that special feeling. When the opportunity arises seize it because these occasions are sometimes few and far between. The next time you experience that special feeling remember how good it feels and remember how good it feels to belong to an organization that is built on just such a principal of pride.

PRIDE Each time you get that special feeling remember also that you have made your Fraternity proud of you. You are the future of Kappa Psi. Remember that and let all your actions reflect it as well. We want the future to be as great as if not greater than the past and if by your actions honor and credit is given your fraternity then the future is indeed bright. The pride I hold in my heart for each of you cannot be adequately described but I can tell you that there have been more than one occasion when my eyes have got a little misty when I think about some of the accomplishments you have already finished. I am not the only person grateful to you for your unselfish giving and the pride you take in life. You make yourself special and Kappa Psi special by the helping hand you extend.

I hope I can continue to make you PROUD of your fraternity by my actions and deeds. You are my inspiration.

He will act as chief executive officer of the association, overseeing the implementation of policy by the IPhA executive offices.

Brother Hageboeck—In Memoriam

The brothers of Beta Upsilon are sad to report the loss of one of our most beloved and respected alums, Dr. Terry Lee Hageboeck. Dr. Hageboeck had been Butler faculty since the mid-1970's and became a Kappa Psi member and faculty advisor of Beta Upsilon chapter upon its reactivation in 1977. He will be missed by all who knew him due to his wonderful caring personality and ability to cheer up anyone's day.

Dr. Hageboeck was a 1959 graduate of Butler University College of Pharmacy and went on to practice in two independent pharmacies before teaching several years at Purdue and then coming to Butler. His love of the profession and true concern for patients and co-workers were unusual attributes that will be missed. In teaching a communications class for pharmacy majors at Butler, he helped change many students' opinions of patients and professionals from other areas of health care, and he taught us how to communicate effectively and empathically. This favorably affected the way hundreds of Butler graduates feel about pharmacy. He also taught other practical aspects of pharmacy, including finance, management, marketing, law, and computer literacy. His space will be hard to fill.

Dr. Hageboeck was a member of many other organizations as well as Kappa Psi including APhA, Indiana Pharmacists Association, American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, Rho Chi, Phi Lambda Sigma, Butler Chapter's advisor, The Indianapolis Association of Retail Pharmacists, and the National Association of Retail Pharmacists. He affected Butler University College of Pharmacy not only by being a long standing, well-respected professor, but also by designing its computer systems and being a member of a couple of Dean-search committees. He affected pharmacy practice in Indiana not only by being an excellent role model but also by sitting on the committee that writes the law portion of the Indiana Boards.

Dr. Hageboeck will be dearly missed by his co-workers, students, family and friends. It will be a long time before we realize that he isn't coming back.

THE GOLDEN CIRCLE

Industry—A Key Factor In Your Success

By Glen J. Sperandio, Past Grand Regent

In my forty years of involvement in Kappa Psi at the national level, I've had many experiences that have impressed on me the value of the basic principles on which our fraternity has survived and prospered for over a century. I would like to share with you my thoughts on one of them.

In 1903 Kappa Psi was registered as a corporation in the state of Delaware. In its corporate application, the objects of the fraternity were described, and Industry was one of the four specific virtues its members were expected to exemplify. When you were initiated into Kappa Psi you learned of the four sides of the square—do you remember that industry was the first one mentioned?

We have a habit today of using words without really thinking of their intrinsic meaning, and I believe this is the case with many of the causes which we endorse. Have you ever thought about the word industry and what it means to you?

The dictionaries give several definitions of industry, but the one which was meant for men of Kappa Psi (and which had a specific meaning long before the industrial revolution) was diligence or sustained sincere effort. In plain language, it meant working hard to do your best in whatever job you had to do. In this context, Industry is one of the primary factors necessary to your own success.

One thing I'd like to emphasize: I do not intend to preach to you, or give you a lecture on how to succeed in life; I only ask you to consider what I'm saying and think about it.

Too often, in today's world, the philosophy is to get as much as you can for as little effort as possible. Personal pride in one's work and the quality of work or services performed seem to be secondary to collecting maximum pay for minimum effort. This usually leads to job dissatisfaction and lack of advancement for the employee. We hear about pride in workmanship, and we see workers in other countries producing many products that are better than those made by American workers because of better work practices; but it's not the Corporate Industry making the product that's responsible for this—it's the industry the individual workers put into their assigned jobs. It's the conscious effort they make to do the job the very best they can.

Think about this: it's the kind of job performance one does which determines the quality of the product. Whether the product is a tangible one like a piece of electronic equipment or a car; or an intangible one such as a repair job in the house; or a personal service as medical treatment, legal help, or financial advice, the industrious person will be recognized as the best in his or her field.

In your profession, your success and everything that goes with it will be determined by how well you practice it and how well you take advantage of the opportunities that open up for you.

I would suggest serious consideration of a planned program for professional and personal advancement with the knowledge that industry as I have explained it can make your hopes a reality:

- Set a long range goal and regularly review it to see if it will provide you with what you want in life.

- Find a position in your area that appeals to you and has opportunities for you to demonstrate your individual abilities.

- Take your work assignments seriously with a firm intention to do better than just average.

- Apply yourself to your work and keep trying to do it better than you did the day before.

- Avoid becoming a workaholic. Use your working hours for work and the rest of your time for a balanced personal, social, and civic life.

- Develop a sense of pride in your accomplishments and self-respect; and respect those whom you serve.

You can be one of Pharmacy's leaders in the twenty-first century. Start preparing for it now.

Brother Glen J. Sperandio was elected Grand Ritualist in 1953 and served in that office for three terms; then became Second Grand Vice Regent, then First Grand Vice Regent, and served two terms as Grand Regent from 1963-67.

Delta Lambda—a KΨ success story!

To have courage without pugnacity,
to have conviction without bigotry,
to have charity without condescension,
to have faith without credulity, to have love of humanity without mere sentimentality, to have meekness with power
and emotion with sanity—
that is brotherhood.

— Charles Evans Hughes

This short sentiment from Charles Evans Hughes exemplifies the true nature of brotherhood, and the connotations which it actively depicts. The Brothers of Delta Lambda try to pursue these aforementioned statements, not only in their group activities, but in their individual lives as well.

Delta Lambda has been in existence for over 4 years, and our chapter consists of over 100 active members and more than 50 alumni. We are affiliated with Campbell University, a small, Baptist, liberal arts school, located in Buies Creek, N.C. Where is Buies Creek, you undoubtedly ask? Well, to be real honest, it's about an hour away from the Raleigh-Durham metropolitan area; therefore the Brothers have to be pretty creative when planning their weekend activities. Because of our chapter's locale and surrounding environment, some of our social activities may be considered moderate by some chapter's standards—but we still manage to hold our own!!

The chapter has been extremely active and profitable throughout its short history—this in turn, has been a direct reflection on the founding Brothers of Delta Lambda, as well as all of the formidable Brothers who have passed through its ranks. If I had to guess, I would say the cornerstones that have marked our chapter from its embryonic stages have been—(1) committee participation, (2) chapter growth and development, (3) involvement, and (4) the virtues of the square.

Our committees combine to function as the “lifeline” of our organization, and work to exemplify the positive image of the chapter. They also help to prevent stagnation within the Brotherhood, and serve to incorporate the Brothers in numerous activities. Because of the committees' creativity and fortitude, our chapter has been involved in a multitude of activities during the past year. Some of the more prominent ones have included—the 2nd Annual “Cadet Ball,” which consisted of a fun-filled beach weekend including mystery games, a volleyball tournament, and a formal dinner/dance. In July, the chapter was able to send 2 delegates to Jackson Hole, and while there, the chapter was awarded the National Scholarship Tray for 1991!! In October, the Fundraising Committee organized the 1st Annual Kappa Psi Homecoming Volleyball Tournament. This school-wide event was accompanied by food and drinks, a DJ, and trophies for the winners! One of the most rewarding projects of 1991 was the Field Day/Fun Day that was held for a local orphanage. The day-long event consisted of 10–12 carnival games including balloon shaving, ring toss, go-fish, and many others. In addition, the older children participated in volleyball, basketball, and softball games, as well as trying to knock down some of our own Brothers in the "infamous" dunking booth! A large number of Brothers participated in this event, and the smiles of enjoyment on the children's faces made it all worthwhile.

Another stronghold of Delta Lambda has been our chapter growth and development. This is a very important priority for the future and present well-being of our organization. I'm not just referring to numerical growth—as it can sometimes draw people apart in large numbers, not always bringing them together—but intellectual growth and development of our chapter and its members is a very important aspect in the successfulness of our chapter. Delta Lambda prides itself in selecting its pledges carefully and cautiously. Because we are a fairly large chapter, the pledgemasters are influential in making sure that each and every pledge will be transformed into a useful, involved, and conscientious Brother.

Involvement is an essential link to our chapter, because without it, the potential for failure is great. Delta Lambda tries to actively involve all its members in its respective day-to-day operations—whether it's in the role of an officer, a chair of a committee, or a committee member. Each Brother has an active voice in the chapter's activities, and everyone's opinion is important. Our chapter's involvement is not confined within the four walls of our meeting hall, but extends to our small community as well. Delta Lambda has taken an active role in the environment by organizing roadside cleanups, and on campus, the chapter has worked with the other 2 pharmacy fraternities in planning school-related activities and functions.

Last but not least, our chapter's livelihood rests upon the virtues of the square—Fellowship, Industry, Sobriety, and High Ideals. The Brothers in our Chapter have the responsibility of carrying on the tradition which our previous founding Brothers have established. As years pass, some things will change, but one thing is certain—the virtues of the square are attainable goals which we as Brothers can reach, and not meaningless aims which are out of our grasp. The Brothers of Delta Lambda are constantly trying to do just that—The chapter would like to take this opportunity to challenge all of our fellow Brothers to realize that Brotherhood is what you make it—you can actively seek to practice the virtues of the square, or you can sit on the sidelines and never realize the true implications of the meaning of Kappa Psi.

Meet the New Collegiate-Member-at-Large— Mike Steffens

Mike was born on Nov. 5, 1967 in Elgin, IL, which is a western suburb of Chicago. He has two younger siblings, Jeffrey and Karen. He has attended both public and private schools in McHenry, IL and graduated from Johnsbury High School. While in high school he was active in both marching and concert band, playing trumpet. He was also a member of the International Club.

After being introduced to Pharmacy through a cousin, Mike began pre-pharmacy at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. It was there that he was initiated into Kappa Psi at the Beta Psi chapter. At the completion of his pre-pharmacy courses he transferred to the University of Illinois at Chicago to pursue a Pharm.D. degree, where he is enrolled in the class of 1993. While there he attempted to reactivate the Chi chapter, which had been inactive for approximately five years. The attempt was successful and he then served as Chi's first Regent. He later served as Vice Satrap of Province V for one year. Mike is also currently a member of ASP, the student chapter of the Northern Illinois Society of Hospital Pharmacists and Amnesty International.

Mike has many hobbies, which include racquetball, golf, fishing and likes to travel. He has traveled throughout the United States and has visited Europe. He also hopes to visit as many of the Provinces as possible while in office. He also enjoys reading and prior to the disintegration of the Soviet Union liked to read mostly about that nation. He still follows events there and hopes to visit some of the independent republics within the next ten years. Mike also is a bit of a "Mustang freak" and has an eye for Mustangs of late 1960's vintage.

I am proud to serve on the Executive Committee of Kappa Psi and am thankful for being elected to this office. I believe that it is important to listen to any suggestions and/or complaints that any Brother might have concerning Kappa Psi. Please do not hesitate to contact me with any complaints or recommendations that you might have to improve Kappa Psi and I will always listen. I am looking forward to hearing from you and also to attending some Province Assemblies in the future.

VARIATION ON AN OLD THEME

by Jamie Tobitt, Pharm.D.

On one of my last days in New Orleans for the ASHP Clinical Midyear Meeting, a friend and I went to the Pharmacy Museum in the French Quarter.

We wandered about admiring the beautiful artistry in the woodwork, the bottles, and the cabinetry of the oldest registered pharmacy in the country. We passed slowly by cases of folded papers, pill rollers, and leaf crushers. I shivered at the huge needles, the old knives, and the crude silver syringes.

We looked at the worn areas on the marble counter top and wondered how many years the old pharmacist stood there making ointments, elixirs, powders, and pills. I wished I could have seen him in action. I could almost hear the spatula slapping the cream onto the marble slab and turning it so skillfully that when it was done it would be smoother than anything available now. No doubt I would have seen a master of a lost art now replaced by industrial production.

My friend turned to me and said, "I feel so removed from all of these things.

This is not pharmacy as I know it."

My initial feeling was agreement. No pharmacy I knew of had a marble pill slab, let alone powder papers or leaf crushers. Then I began to think about the old pharmacist behind the counter. What did he do besides mix creams? He did a lot.

My imagination took me back 100 years. I saw people come into the pharmacy to talk to the pharmacist. "What do you have for a toothache?" one would ask. "I need you to mix something to fix my back" says another. "Can you make a tonic for my cough?" asks a third.

The old pharmacist suddenly appeared to be more than a druggist. He was making decisions about the health of his customers. He had access to drugs which at the time, did not specifically need a physician's prescription for dispensing. The pharmacist made patient assessments, chose the best drug, calculated a dose, prepared it, and counseled the patient. Undoubtedly he would see them again and evaluate their response to therapy. The pharmacist of the late 19th century was more involved in patient care than many pharmacists of today.

The profession was changed forever in the early part of this century by industry and regulation. Pharmacists didn't need to mix drugs anymore. Somehow we could not separate the compounding from patient care, and began to simply dispense drugs.

I told my friend I think pharmacy is coming around to regain some of the element of the old pharmacy in terms of patient care. Today, patient assessment, drug selection, consultation, and drug therapy evaluation are new terms of modern pharmacy practice. But these concepts are not new. They are some of the original components of pharmacy practice which were all but lost during the mid 20th century. While the old marble pill tile may never be used again, the care of the old pharmacist for his patients will hopefully enjoy a much needed return to the profession. I would prefer to think of "new" pharmaceutical care as a variation on an old theme.

Witold Saski publishes Memoirs

From his early childhood in Poland during World War I, Dr. Witold Saski covers his lifetime experiences through his family's 1920 flight from the Soviet-Russian hordes, his imprisonment in Russia, to his schooling and professional achievements.

Son of a Polish pharmacist, Dr. Saski received his Master of Pharmacy degree in Poland in 1933 and later accepted a position in the Ministry of Health and Welfare. He was appointed as a Pharmaceutical Inspector in Southeast Poland, a high government position, and served until the 17 September 1939 Soviet invasion of Poland.

After narrowly escaping the next day's executions, Dr. Saski found work in the new order as a practicing pharmacist and, later, as an analytical chemist. But when trying to flee to the "free West," he was arrested by the Russians and eventually sentenced to five years in Siberian labor camps. Dr. Saski was set free in 1941, after Hitler's attack on the Soviet Union, then joined the Free Polish Army organized by and made up of former prisoners in Russia.

With the end of World War II, Dr. Saski worked towards obtaining his Doctor of Pharmacy degree in Italy in 1946, then a Pharmaceutical Chemist diploma in 1947 and a Diploma in Ophthalmics in 1950 in Great Britain.

In 1951, Dr. Saski emigrated to the U.S. and for the next 24 years served as Professor of Pharmacy, first at the University of Montana for a year and then at the University of Nebraska.

A Fulbright Scholar and U.S. National Academy of Sciences Exchange Scientist, Dr. Saski's nearly 350 publications include four co-authored editions of a laboratory textbook and foreign scientific abstracts. He is a Fellow in the A.Ph.A. Academy of Pharmaceutical Sciences.

Crossing Many Bridges is an intriguing memoir of a highly respected educator and leader in the pharmaceutical discipline set in an historically turbulent era.

Those interested in contacting Brother Saski may write to him at 2600 South 46th St., Lincoln, NE 68506.

Tips for Chapter Editors

A refresher course for experienced editors and helpful hints for newly elected editors:

This need not be drudgery! In order to write a report for the Chapter Check-In department, you need not be a journalism major, nor a literary whiz. You only need to be a member of a chapter—involved in the goings on.

Try to write your report with the knowledge that it won't appear in print for about 8 weeks; that is, plan your report to coincide with topical events. (Let's not read about Halloween at Christmas.)

Make an effort to include some worthwhile community or other service project in your report, as well as traditional parties and rush events. Your alumni want to know that the Friday Night Happy Hours they attended during their student careers are still happening! They also want to be assured that their support of the local chapter is generating worthwhile projects.

Write your report in a style that is comfortable for you. Each chapter's report should reflect the writer and the chapter, not the National Editor. Editing is done on a space provided and well as tasteful content basis. Chapter house jokes belong in the house not in your national publication.

Please, locate a typewriter, word processor or computer to write your report. Although many of you have attractive handwriting, varying styles make legibility difficult. This becomes a critical factor when specific names are used in the article. Words that cannot be read by the editor, do not get printed in the MASK.

As regards photos, color or black and white are acceptable, although b&w produce a higher quality b&w printed image. Please send clear, well balanced photos; if they are blurred when you look at them, don't send them, as they will end up in the circular file. Photos are not returnable; so, have copies made before you mail them. When posing your pictures, avoid including beverage cans and glasses in the shot. Although consuming beverages at parties seems to be the norm, save those photos for your chapter scrapbook.

Finally, be aware of the deadline dates.

Gamma Phi Georgia

Greetings from the Gamma Phi Chapter here at University of Georgia in Athens. We have been working on different projects, fund raisers, and charitable events. For that spare time, whenever we have any, the Brothers get involved in intramural sports. We are working toward one of our most successful years.

First, we have returned from Province IV assembly and the Brothers would like to thank Delta Iota for hosting such a fine convention. Our two delegates were Richie Milliner and Dean Stone. We had two Brothers elected to office. They were Rowell Daniels; Satrap and Drew Pyrz; Parliamentarian. We also would like to congratulate everyone else that was elected. Gamma Phi has a positive outlook on the Province as a whole becoming more unified, even though we are all far apart. We now have nine new brothers initiated this past fall. They were: Chris Lowry, Casey Howell, John Drew, Tim Eley, Ray Clark, Chris Carbaugh, Al Jones, Jody Rowland, and Stewart Bloodworth. These new brothers will be a valuable asset to Kappa Psi. We are proud to have them as new brothers.

Turning toward our charity events and fund raisers, these have continued to be a success. For our fall bi-annual blood drive headed by Brian Buck, we had a great turn out that yielded over fifty pints of blood for the American Red Cross. We also adopted a highway that we clean up four times a year in order to make our environment healthy. Plus,

Eric Baggett arranged our hypertension screening at the Georgia Square Mall in Athens free to the public. Our different fund raisers include sweat shirt sales, car tags, bake sales, and car washes, which most of the money is going to Spring Formal in May. Richie Milliner has set the wheels in motion for starting a Graduate Chapter at UGA. With high hopes maybe within a year we will have a graduate chapter.

Finally, our sports and parties have been loads of fun. We held our annual Jungle Rush Party this past fall. Then came the Gator Hater party and the Homecoming Party. For winter quarter, we started off with the Back in Black celebrating our new jerseys. We will continue to have our bi-monthly parties in the future. As for sports, we have been having continued success. Our fall intramural football had a great season. We also hope our winter basketball and bowling teams do well, but if not the object is to have fun. Gamma Phi Brothers are working hard to make this year a memorable one for Kappa Psi.

— Dean Stone

Beta Nu Creighton University

"Hello!" from all the brothers of Beta Nu!! We are all very sorry and disappointed that our Conclave was cancelled due to a snow storm over the Halloween weekend. Our conclave coordinator Suzanne Harms worked very hard to make the conclave eventful. We would like to thank all our brothers who were able to come visit and share with us some of their chapters up and coming events. We would also like to thank Paul Hiller and Brian Furbush for their insight on instilling the Kappa Psi ritual and the importance of its meaning to all our brothers of Kappa Psi! The brothers of Beta Nu are looking forward to meeting with all our Province VIII brothers and Kappa Psi brothers at our Conclave this spring.

Beta Nu would like to thank Kim Scully

Sigma Maryland

Sigma Chapter has been busy this past semester. We began many charity events including a homework center at a local junior high school, Adopt-A-Highway, & working with our state pharmaceutical association, MPhA. Our fundraisers included an annual phone-a-thon, selling sweatshirts, T-shirts, & Christmas ornaments. Social events included volleyball games, comedy club, and happy hours.

We are very active in our school. We had 10 brothers attend our ASP regional meeting which was held in New Jersey in Nov. We all had a great time and enjoyed meeting KΨ brothers from other schools. Our ASP chapter elections resulted in 4 KΨ officers: Abigail Lagman, Pres.; Gene Hampton, Vice Pres.; Yunga Chang, Sec.; Charlene Roseman, Treas. Congratulations! Eight brothers are planning to attend the APhA-ASP National Convention in San Diego in March. We are excited to attend and hope to meet a lot of brothers.

Congratulations to Lisa Esser and Marilyn Cox for their membership on the National KΨ Public Relations Committee and the National KΨ Ritual Committee, respectively. We would also like to congratulate the following brothers who received academic excellence awards: Lisa Esser, Lisa Martinelli, Shelby Ogilvie, Mark Walls and extracurricular excellence awards: Cathi Campbell, Yunga Chang, Lisa Esser, Abigail Lagman, Charlene Roseman.

As we begin a new semester, Sigma chapter is getting off to a flying start. We have a retreat planned for the first weekend of the semester in Ocean City, MD. This is a chance to get our ideas together and begin organizing our activities.

The following weekend we will be dressed to a "T" to attend our semi-formal. We would like to thank Brother Lagman for a job well done in organizing this BIG event. We plan to continue most of our fundraising and charity events while adding blood pressure screening, selling carnations for Valentine's Day, watches, and a bowl-a-thon.

PROVINCE IX

Basically, in order to figure out our province you first must take this quiz from the Wall Street Journal, 21 October 1991.

1. You are driving home after a long, tough day. As you near your home . . .

A) This question is irrelevant because you don't have a car. You take the train and walk from the station, and enjoy it. You're invigorated by the fresh, saucy air of early winter. This is what life is all about!

B) You park your funky, but serviceable vehicle on the street, because garages are, like, so bourgeois.

C) You punch a button that emits a signal heard only by certain rare species of suburban raccoon, and your garage door swings open in advance of your arrival. That, in turn, signals your automated bartender, which mixes a nice pitcher of martinis.

D) Don't be silly. Why would you be in your car? You spend your days at home, running the office via computer. You make things run from where you sit!

2. Entering your castle, you find that the lights are out. You . . .

A) Sit in the dark and wonder how that dimmer is supposed to work.

B) Greet your significant other and, as you share a welcoming embrace, turn on the lava lamp, an object whose beauty still brings tears to your eyes.

C) Clap your hands and activate just about every light in the house, as well as most of the kitchen appliances, which begin to prepare your dinner while you thumb through your stack of catalogs that contain all sorts of neat gadgets you're thinking of buying.

D) Don't be absurd. There's no way it's dark. You've preset the house to light up when the candlepower settings on your digitized security sensor fall below the level established by your personal biorhythmic chart.

3. You have 1.2 hours to spare before doing some work. You need to eat and share some Big Q time with your family unit. You . . .

A) Enjoy a quiet meal with your clan discussing the issues of the day, help give the kids a bath, then fall asleep on your daughter's bed.

B) Prepare dinner with your spouse, put on an old Theodore Bikel album (which the family enjoys while singing along), and then, when the kids are tucked in bed, have a substantive discussion with your spouse about the question of gender calcification.

C) Grab a bite of microwaved meat extender while the rest of the family members eat standing up, yelling, before they hurry off to pursue their separate evening activities.

D) Enjoy a bologna sandwich at your desk, playing a networked game of King's Quest V with the rest of your family, each at a private work station, all networked in to the contest vial internal home ethernet.

4. You're at your desk in the den. It's 9:30, and you've got miles to go before you sleep. You . . .

A) Spend a couple of hours reading books and articles that you've borrowed from the public library, taking a moment now and then to jot down—with a No. 2 pencil—the random thoughts that this activity generates.

B) Grab a couple of cold brewskies and call some college buddies, ending the evening singing "Satisfaction" in a voice so loud your spouse comes into your study to hit you with a macrame pillow.

C) Run a spreadsheet with the newest version of 1-2-3 for Windows, which now has the speed and power to compete with Excel. But is it worth switching? While your numbers are crunching in the background, you tap into a user-group bulletin board and wrestle with this thorny issue until it's time to turn in.

D) Set your 586-50 to the task of writing some important documents. It doesn't need your help, since it draws on reservoirs of artificial intelligence that exceed your own. While it works, you tussle with an algorithm by which the number of employees in any given office can be reduced to less than zero.

5. Your work done, you turn to the bills. You . . .

A) Put aside individual envelopes for each creditor, some with personal checks, some with cash, which you will distribute by hand tomorrow morning, right on time, with a smile.

B) Look at the whole mess for a while, then shove it in a drawer. You go downstairs to play the guitar for a couple of hours while sucking on a bottle of Mateus.

C) Electronically transfer funds to each vendor. No muss, no fuss.

D) What bills? Your expenses are cybernetically detected at the moment they are incurred and your vast network of interlocking accounts debited on a 90-day rotation that minimizes the tax implications and ensures that each vendor gets his money at the last possible moment.

6. Realizing that tomorrow you must go to Omaha for a two-day strategic planning meeting, you . . .

A) Pack a change of underwear, a toothbrush, a slim file folder and a couple of lucky

No. 2 pencils in a small overnight kit you can fit in your briefcase.

B) Are in such total disarray that you stuff a suitcase the size of a steamer trunk with every available piece of financial documentation in your possession and two full changes of clothing. Dragging it to your front door, you wrench your back and must attend the conference whacked out on painkiller, which is OK.

C) Load the hard drive in your 386SX-20 laptop with all pertinent information and pack one of those carry-on luggage thingies with one extremely thin four-season suit. Overnight, you modem the entire third-quarter spreadsheet to the slave file server in Nebraska, so that when you arrive everyone is up to speed and ready to talk for a couple of hours.

D) Don't be a wiener. You have no intention of going to Omaha. When you reach the office tomorrow, you will conduct the entire meeting via teleconference from eight remote locations, saving $253,490 in air fare.

7. Now it's time to unwind. Slipping into your bathrobe, you . . .

A) Sit quietly and think.

B) Watch your local network affiliate to catch up on the latest news.

C) Channel-surf over all available 35 television options, finally falling asleep over the Home Shopping Network (but not before you order that vertical blender you'd always wanted).

D) Put on your goggles, hook up your direct brain link through the surgically implanted sensory node in your forehead, and go on a virtual-reality visit to Mars, where you join up with Arnold Schwarzenegger, battle a bad corporation, and gain his respect.

8. Before you hit the sack, it's important to make sure your body is in tip-top shape, so you . . .

A) Do 100 sit-ups and 20 push-ups, and drink a glass of grapefruit juice, slowly.

B) Get out of your bathrobe, put on some shorts and T-shirt, hop on your bike, and take an energetic ride, pedaling through the quiet neighborhood and feeling at one with the universe.

C) Put on your spandex tights and, whistling, walk for two miles on your new $3,000 treadmill.

D) Don't be a droid. You don't work out at night. You work out at the club three times a week, just before lunch, consulting with your own personal trainer, who has worked with Steve Jobs on the software program that determines your optimal height, weight, and post-exercise beverage.

9. At last you have time to share a quiet moment with your spouse. The house is still. The river of life has slowed down to a relaxing murmur. You . . .

A) Converse, plan the coming days and weeks, and, mellow in each other's arms, revel in the comfortable existence you have created together.

B) Boogie down big time.

C) Put your spouse to sleep with a long, rambling disquisition on the operating system of the future. Will it be OS/2, as IBM hopes? Or a Microsoft Windows platform running over plain-vanilla DOS? After a while, you put even yourself to sleep.

D) Put on your goggles again, pop some Soma, connect your mutual-sensory input jacks, and get virtually close on an imaginary waterbed located in the finest hotel in the sunken continent of Atlantis. What fun!

For every (A) response, award yourself exactly zero points. For (B) responses give yourself five. For (C) take 10. For every time you had the foresight, moxie and sheer imagination to belly up to (D), get 20 big ones.

0-30 points: If you're not careful, you're going to have to drop completely out and move to someplace mired in toasty, yeasty, traditional values circa approximately 1452, like Canada. You don't want that. Wise up and get functional, babe.

30-75 points: Beware. You're camped comfortably in the ultramodern Zeitgeist of the '60s, when attitudes about technology were mighty squishy and the Mixmaster was the standard by which all inventions were measured. Get a grip or you may lose it.

75-125 points: You're firmly grounded in the cellular world of today. As a citizen of the here and now, however, you are most certainly aware that where you are isn't quite good enough. You've got to be prepared for tomorrow. Take the leap!

125-180 points: Congratulations! You're ready for whatever the technological Eden of the future has to hold. How you manage to live in the present is another issue, of course, and one you ignore at your peril. Try staying a bit grounded in the real world.

Now that you know where you stand, you can understand where our province stands and needs to go. Some of us like Jamie Tobitt, Peter Koo, Chris Woo, Don Florridia, John Eastham, and many others at University of Pacific are definitely ready for the challenges that the '90s present and are prepared to meet the next century head on. Other chapters in our province are somewhere between Canada and the ultramodern Zeitgeist, but might be convinced someday to think cellular.

It was fun meeting at ASHP in New Orleans. So let's make the KΨ meeting at APhA in San Diego a worthwhile and fun experience. See you there!

— Curtis Berry

Delta Lambda Campbell

The spring semester has finally arrived, bringing all the brothers of Delta Lambda together once more to join in an exciting and productive time in promoting the profession of pharmacy. It should definitely be exciting for our new brothers initiated in late fall 1991 as they embark on their first full semester in Kappa Psi. Delta Lambda's new brothers are: James Adams, Ben Belton, Kelli Barker, Scott Brewer, Melissa Brock, Stephanie Combs, Melissa Crider, Karen Doolan,

A new addition to our chapter which was put into effect this semester is an elected body of brothers composing the Judiciary Committee. These brothers are: Joe Issac-Chairman, James Adams-Co-Chair, Bill McKelvey, Holly McReynolds, Vanessa Hayes, Reggie Faulkner, David Eller, Jill Myers, and Traci Roberts. Delta Lambda would also like to sincerely thank our 1991 officers for their splendid performance as leaders in Kappa Psi.

Some of the numerous activities of the spring semester included a Mad Medicine rush party where a rather wacky array of health care providers were found, as well as a Toga rush party, in which the brothers were able to let loose the Greek within themselves.

Also featured from previous years were some of our more traditional events. Headlining these is our Third Annual Cadet Ball, which was held March 6, 7, and 8 at the Sheraton in Myrtle Beach. This three day gala of events was topped off with a Saturday evening awards banquet. One of Delta Lambda's newest traditions is the annual Spring Golf Tournament which will be held April 12. The brothers are looking forward to unprecedented success and a good time for all at this year's tournament.

Springtime has also brought with it a renewed enthusiasm for service projects and fundraisers. We are presently selling raffle tickets to help finance our formal. Plans are also being made to sponsor a Red Cross Blood Drive in our area as well as our routine cleaning up of our adopted highway.

Congratulations to brothers Ronnie Tyson, Michelle DeHart, and David Shaw who were honored as the brothers of the month for October. Also congratulations to alumni brothers Joe Moose and Tasha Suggs Moose on their recent marriage.

Gamma Iota SUNY at Buffalo

As the spring semester is about to begin, our chapter is ready to start back to work. Plans for this semester have already been made and our committees are always coming up with new ideas for fundraising and helping in the community. We are, of course, also looking forward to the upcoming Province V convention.

Last semester was very productive and ended with our biggest fundraiser of the semester. We enjoyed the Brother bowling and ice skating events that were scheduled

Brothers Lynn McLean, Jerry Haynes and Jill Myers with two of the children from Falcon Children's home.

Copley Plaza in downtown Boston. The banquet hall offered a superb view of downtown and a great time was had by all. Thank you to all in attendance who made the event a special memory of the holiday season.

Upcoming events include our annual Super Bowl party held at the house, a pledge period expected to be very productive, the Province I Convention, and our Spring blood drive.

Gamma Kappa South Dakota State

Last semester was filled with many enjoyable events, beginning with various picnics and socials. With the arrival of October came Hobo Days, SDSU's homecoming, which kept the brothers of Gamma Kappa busy. During the week we sponsored a Juvenile Diabetes Foundation fundraiser entitled "Kill a Car," in which money was collected from students who helped demolish an old car using sledge hammers. Other activities for the week included working on the award winning College of Pharmacy float, and holding a social for the alumni of Gamma Kappa.

This fall, more home improvements were made on the house. Both the upstairs kitchen and bathroom underwent some remodeling, with the installation of new floors and linoleum, new counters, and a new toilet for the bathroom. The exterior of the house also benefited from the addition of new gutters.

Throughout the course of the semester, several social events were held to allow the Brothers and little sisters to "kick back" and relax. Such events included the Halloween party, movie nights at the house, and the annual Christmas party, complete with caroling and gifts.

On November 21, 1991, we inducted the following nine new Brothers into Kappa Psi:

Faculty members Dr. Chandradhar Dwivedi, Dr. Ferzaan Engineer, and Dr. Michael Smar, as well as Scott Deckert, Brian Kuss, Jeff Mowry, Byron Olson, Rob Quenzer, and the Outstanding Pledge Mark Schneider. Congratulations to these new Brothers and welcome to KΨ!

Other fall activities included participation in the intramural sports, with teams for racquetball and volleyball, and being named Organizational Champions for football. Way to go Strong Cobbs!

In other business, we have adopted three and one-half miles of U.S. Highway 14, at the South Dakota/Minnesota border. This is part of a community betterment project in which we keep this section of Highway free of litter.

The chapter also raised money for UNICEF in a campus wide competition through student donations. Our contribution helped the College of Pharmacy claim first place for the largest amount of money raised.

The semester ended with elections and the installation of new officers. The results were as follows:

Regent .....	Sean Higgins
Vice Regent .....	Brad Tople
Secretary .....	Byron Olson and also initiated 16 new Brothers into the chapter. The fundraisers we held were selling T-shirts to the school of pharmacy and "Top 200" drug cards. The semester ended with our annual "Toys For Tots" Christmas party to which we invited the entire school of pharmacy and everyone was required to bring a toy for an underprivileged child. With hundreds of toys collected this year, we were proud to give the toys to the charity and even were on the Buffalo news!

Anyway, this semester should prove to be successful and work has already begun on our upcoming fundraisers, brown bag consultation sessions (which we also held last semester), and our annual awards banquet. Hope to see you at the Province V convention!

Mu Massachusetts

Many college students nowadays take their education for granted so the Brothers of Mu Chapter decided to develop a professional project to encourage continuing education in Boston area high schools. On November 22, Brothers Jody Twombly, Tony Cardoso, Rich Ploude, and Jim Tjon went to Madison Park High School in Roxbury to talk to the students about the importance of continuing education. Tony, a member of the U.S. Army Reserves, talked about ROTC and its influence in his life. Jim talked to the students about college life and what college can do for them. Jody spoke about time management and how to balance social life with work and school and Rich talked about financial help and how to pay for college. The Brothers also stressed the importance of taking advantage of the free public education that they are receiving now. The Brothers hope that their discussion on continuing education answered some of the students' questions about college and encouraged them to make an effort to go on to college.

On December 13, Mu Chapter held its annual Winter Semi-formal at the Sheraton in

We have been busy with many professional projects such as diabetes and hypertension screening and visits to our local nursing home. Our annual Otc clinic was held at a mall in Grand Rapids with great success. Most of our efforts will now turn to last minute details of the Province V convention that we are hosting March 27-28. We hope to see everyone there.

Epsilon Minnesota

Our chapter has grown by nine new members this Fall. Our new members are Jane Anderson, Christina Askew, Jill Doktor, Sarah Kotek, Stacey Larsen, Matthew Lewis, Ronald Simono, Becky Westphal and Melaine Winkelman. They were initiated on January 22nd.

We had our Fall Dinner Meeting on November 13th at the Lido. At this meeting we had two Graduate Members speak for us. They were Corinne Zabinski, who spoke on "Opportunities for Pharmacist's in Managed Health Care" and Sam Foster, who spoke on "Opportunities for Pharmacist's in the Air Force." Our Winter Dinner Meeting was held on February 19th at the Nankin. We would like to thank our Social Chair, Stacey Hansen for planning both of these dinners, as well as our evening at Wild Bill's Comedy Gallery. Stacey has also been busy planning our Spring Weekend Get-Away at Breezy Point which will take place May 8-10th.

We have also started fundraising for the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Donation cans were placed at area pharmacies during the Holidays. We are also planning to do a raffle, since the can drive has fallen short of what we expected. This fundraiser is an on-going competition with the other Chapters in our Province. We would like to thank Gina Peterson for her work on both the raffle and the can drive.

We would also like to congratulate those members who have received scholarships this year: American Cancer Society Scholarship, Jane Anderson; Anonymous Donor Scholarship, Christopher Martinson; Benjamin M. Cohen Scholarship, Kerri Eye; Kappa Psi Scholarship, Jeffery Loch and Beth Ostergaard; Keith K. Keller Scholarship, Jill Schraut; Abbie N. Larson Scholarship, Rebecca Millan; and Sarah L. Mark Scholarship, Lori Hoey.

First of all, a hearty welcome and congratulations to all of our 37 (yes, you counted that right—three-seven!) new pledges: Huong Ai, Mary Ann Amigable, Kaveh Barjesteh, Thuc Bui, Amy Chan, Henry Chen, Michele Chen, Raymond Cheung, Moon Choe, Joann Cramer, Gale Dixon, Michelle Dogey, Linda Giustino, Laura Greiner, Rita Hui, Audrey Kozubal, Tonya Kwock, Harriet Lam, Rita Lam, Christina Le, Edward Louie, Jeanne Lucich, Ray Manahan, Lauren Markowitz, Lisa Naruo, Linda Reynolds, Freda Rowley, Deepa Setty, Ellen Shintani, Kethan So, Sandra Suzuki, Winnie Tai, Elton Teng, Darren Totty, Sam Truong, Aaron Tse, and Shirley Van Horne. They proved themselves worthy of being Kappa Psi brothers during initiation week in January, and they also did a great job hosting our Winter quarter party. In addition, they threw a terrific (and delicious) dinner for the active Beta Gamma brothers. Keep up the good work; we're proud of you!

In January we made our annual trek up to Lake Tahoe for a weekend of skiing (and falling), risking our hard-earned money made while slaving as pharmacy interns (?), and, of course, snowball fights. We may have come home broke and wearing wet clothes, but we did have fun getting that way! A special thanks to Brothers Van Mar and Gary Vita for arranging the trip.

The Beta Gamma-sponsored community project, the Lung Cancer Project, is well on its way. We have many pharmacy students interested in going to elementary and middle schools to discuss with the kids the hazards of smoking. Brothers Noelle Hasson and Mae Kwong deserve much credit for their hard work.

Province V

Thanks to Jill Jacobek and the rest of the Brothers of Beta Upsilon for hosting the Province 5 mid year convention in November of 1991. Secondly, thanks to the Gamma Pi Brothers (Province 7) who were able to join us in Indianapolis for our meeting. A true sign of brotherhood!!

Thanks also to our Satrap Paige Stevens for the work she did in providing the province with Province 5 sweatshirts and tee shirts. We all appreciate the work she did to provide for us something we as a province could share.

Gamma Omicron Oklahoma

The sweeping change that first started a year ago at GAMMA OMICRON continued this fall with twenty-nine new initiates. The fall pledge class raised over four hundred dollars with their fund raiser. Pledge night out theme was "Cross Into The BBB." (BIG

Kelly Hall, Bill Taylor and Don Warner

BARN BASH); once again the outing was held at the Half-Circle JH ranch. Food, music and lots of fellowship by the camp fire were enjoyed. Pictured are several members and pledges. The second annual cow chip throwing contest was postponed till next spring due to manufactures shortage, actually it was too dark. Following pledge night out a big brother-little brother night was held. Pledges were quizzed over KAPPA PSI history, the first to correctly answer received a prize. Pledges also enjoyed trying to bust open a piñata filled with candy. Several pledges proved that being spun around blind folded was just too much, they couldn't do anything accurately let alone hit a piñata. Some of the older members compared the sensation to taking one of Dr. Magarian's medicinal chemistry tests. Success was achieved when the piñata was partially wounded by Pam Alexander, pledge class president, and then finished off in grand manner by Clint Bullock.

Before formal initiation, several members and pledges took part in surprising patients at Childrens Hospital with presents donated to ASP.

Formal initiation and banquet were held Friday, December 6. Banquet committee members did an outstanding job with decorations and arranging the facilities. Thank you to the many faculty and alumni who attended; we enjoyed seeing you there. Members who received scholarship awards were: Jenifer Berry, John Robertson, and Steve Boatright. Rebecca Rangel and Irish Lytle were awarded the Kappa Psi Certificate of Commendation. Kate Lindemuth was acknowledged for outstanding performance with the fundraiser and, Michael Barber received the outstanding pledge award. Our

In case you are not familiar with him, "Jake" is brother Tom Fotta's canine companion.

This past Fall, the Beta Omega chapter of Kappa Psi won the Temple University Intramural Flag Football Championship beating Kappa Delta Rho. KΨ team members Rick Scholl, John White, Cosimo Costa, Tom Fotta, Kevin Szczecina, Charles Raineri, Mike Ristagno, Dave Jones and non-KΨ team members Tony Gazoo and Mike Morren then went on into the Philadelphia "City 6" Championships represented Temple University. We beat LaSalle University in the first round and lost to St. Joseph's University in the semi-finals. Congratulations to all our gridiron champion KΨ brothers!

One of the major themes that we will be concentrating on this Spring is fundraising. Our house needs to have the plumbing upgraded and ceiling fixed in addition to a variety of other minor repair projects. Brother Jim Krenitsky has been assigned the head of our Fundraising Committee and has come up with several ideas in conjunction with the G.C.D. and officers as to how to generate monies for these projects. We may be holding a phonathon to contact graduate brothers in the Spring. Other ideas include holding monthly 50-50 raffles, theme parties, and joint projects with main campus fraternities. If any graduate brother has any ideas on how to generate additional income for house repairs, etc., or wishes to contribute to our cause, please contact us at the house: Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity, Beta Omega Chapter, 1247 West Allegheny Avenue, Philadelphia, PA 19133. Our house phone number is (215) 225-9417. You may also contact me directly: Dr. Frederick W. Kohler, Jr., G.C.D., Beta Omega Chapter-Kappa Psi, Temple University School of Pharmacy, 3307 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, PA 19140. My office phone is (215) 221-2410. By the way, past G.C.D. Dr. Ronald F. Gautieri and the current G.C.D. were the first to give their support and dollars to this effort (in fact we matched each others contributions!). I have also begun to contact other chapters of Kappa Psi to gain some insight into their fundraising efforts.

This Spring we will again be holding our annual Tri-F Dinner and Semi-Formal with Lambda Kappa Sigma. As of this writing, no dates have as of yet been set for these events but they will most probably be held in April 1992. As before, we will be sending out newsletters in the Spring to provide you with the exact dates. Please make every effort to at least attend the Tri-F Dinner. We had a very good turnout of graduate brothers back in December 1991 for the initiation of our new brothers and I'm hoping to see all of you again in the Spring. In addition to these events we will also be hosting several parties at the house during the Spring Semester.

Finally, I would like to personally thank brother and former historian Tim Nichols for seeing to it that our chapter always had an article in The Mask over the past two years. Tim has also been heavily involved in updating our chapter's alumni directory. Any graduate brother wishing to obtain a copy of the directory please contact the house. Thank you Tim for all your hard work!

— Dr. Frederick W. Kohler, Jr., G.C.D.

Theta Medical College of Virginia

Theta Chapter has started its 70th year as a chapter and is excited once again about the up and coming year. We are under new leadership this semester: Tim Lucas-Regent, Pat Meade-Vice Regent, Jon Carney-Secretary, John Felts-Treasurer, Mike Soiland-Historian, Mike Doyle-Sergeant at Arms, and Ray Laster-Chaplain. We have been going full steam already this semester. Blood Pressure Screenings for Rite Aid Stores in the area has been done for six weekends. The brothers have enjoyed the opportunity to help serve in the community. We are also serving dinner at the Hospitality House here at MCV hospital on a Monday night. We are planning for the annual Open House at our school and think it will be a big success. A raffle for a weekend for two in the Bahamas has just begun with the drawing to be held on Jan. 15th. We are also excited to see three new pledges this semester: Alan Freeman, Tony Clark, and Ed Milenski. This semester we have also started our annual Ads Book for the Formal fundraiser, sold can drinks at lunch, and made a picture directory of the new pharmacy class.

Mu Omicron Pi Wayne State

Over the summer, we finally painted the garage which was redone last year. Also two of our brothers, Charles Preuss and Jeff Sullivan went to the GCD in Wyoming along with many brothers from the Detroit Graduate Chapter and they said it was a blast. The Detroit Graduate Chapter also held our annual beer booth at the Detroit Gran Prix which is not only a lot of fun for our brothers but also lets our new brothers meet some of the Grads and get to know them. The rest of the summer was pretty uneventful around here.

Near the end of summer was when we started preparing for our fall rushing. We initiated two new members this fall, Constantine Shishis and Paul West. We would all like to congratulate them on their hard work and welcome them to Kappa Psi!

In September was our annual back to school/rush party, which we met our two new brothers and introduced them to Kappa Psi, this was a very successful event. The rest of the month was filled with rushing events.

In October we wrapped up pledging. On Oct. 25 we also held our annual Halloween Party which was a lot of fun and very successful. We also held a drug card sale at the local medical school to raise funds to keep the house running.

Our Treasurer Jeff Sullivan is our new PSAB (pharmacy school advisory board) representative at the college. November started with our annual Wine and Cheese Tasting Party hosted by the Detroit Graduate Chapter and it was a huge success attended by most of the brothers. We are hosting our annual Thanksgiving Day party Oct. 25. We are also starting to prepare for our winter rush. We are also starting to sell tickets to a 50/50 raffle we are having in January and hopefully it will be a success.

December was the time to begin preparing for our winter rush. The winter rush was very important because of the declining interest of 3rd year pharmacy school students to get involved in any activities other than school. So faced with this membership problem, we only have 3 3rd year students. We are going to concentrate mainly on main campus in order to attract pre-pharmacy students which was something the Mu Omicron Pi Chapter not done in the past.

December was filled with exams and so it was quite a time around the Kappa Psi House but we hope to do a brown bag event at several of our local senior citizen apartments centers. Then host our annual Christmas Party, this is always a lot of fun because we have a social with Lambda Kappa Sigma to help decorate the house and put up the Christmas tree. The brothers of Mu Omicron Pi wish all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

—Jason Smith

Pittsburgh Graduate

Following on an excellent attendance at the October 4, 5, and 6, Province II meeting in Pittsburgh which this chapter hosted (the first time in memory the Pittsburgh Graduate Chapter has hosted a Province meeting), the chapter proceeded through the fall and early winter with a series of business meetings and social gatherings.

Elected and installed in October at the Beta Kappa House were the 1992 officers:

Secretary .....	Bernadette Sowko
Treasurer .....	Daniel C. Wellhausen
Historian .....	Bruce D. Martin
Chaplain .....	Robert Coffman
Sergeant-at-Arms .....	Kurt Nestel

In late October and November, the chapter held two bowling parties at Miracle Lanes in Monroeville, Pennsylvania and at Harmar Lanes, Harmarville, and a meeting at Duquesne University. The business meeting coordinated by Delta Epsilon brothers tempered a routine business agenda with a generous helping of pizza supplied from the campus ovens. Future meetings were scheduled for January, March and May.

The chapter is pleased to congratulate the Delta Epsilon chapter on its 25th anniversary in February 1992. A sincere effort is under-

Beta Epsilon Rhode Island

Greetings again from the brothers at Beta Epsilon! Can you believe that it is March already? This school year has quickly passed, yet it seems like September was only yesterday. We have had another successful semester here at U.R.I. Things got rolling early in January with a social at Casey's Restaurant sponsored by Kappa Psi. We collected a small cover charge from everyone who entered, which made our Treasurer Anthony Trask extremely happy. Some other fundraising events were a Car Wash and T-shirt sales.

Two weeks after school started, a large group of Beta Epsilon brothers headed north to Beta Delta at Albany College of Pharmacy for the annual Province I convention. The Beta Delta guys were gracious hosts. I personally left Albany with a strong sense of Brotherhood and what a great feeling that is!! I just hope that we will be able to match Beta Delta's graciousness when the convention comes to Rhode Island next year.

A major event that is held each March here at U.R.I. is the College of Pharmacy's Drug Fair sponsored by Kappa Psi. This year's Drug Fair Chairman, Vice-Regent Michael

Chin, spent many long hours coordinating the big event and it showed by the great turnout that we had. Approximately twenty-five company representatives attended this year's Drug Fair and they all seemed more than satisfied with the student turnout.

Late in the first semester of classes, Brother Steven Charles represented our school (and the Beta Epsilon Chapter) at the Twenty-sixth annual ASHP Clinical Mid-Year meeting held in New Orleans. Steve came back with a greater appreciation for hospital pharmacy as well as a rekindled sense of Brotherhood. While in New Orleans, Steve met many Kappa Psi brothers including most of the Grand National Officers. A special hello goes out to Brothers Jenny Donaldson from Beta Upsilon (Great poster presentation) & Kim Rohrbacher and the rest of the Gamma Upsilon Brothers.

Congratulations goes out to five Beta Epsilon brothers for being inducted into the Beta Pi Chapter of Rho Chi. These fine men are as follows: Eric Arlia, James Charest, Michael Chin, Donald McKaig, and Vahid Zia. Beta Epsilon is now privileged to have eleven undergraduate Brothers in a Beta Pi chapter that has thirty members. Good work men. You are all well deserving of this honor.

Finally, Beta Epsilon was busy this semester competing in intramural sports. We took part in 5 on 5 basketball, indoor floor hockey, and volleyball. While we did not break into the NCAA's top 25 list in any sport, we did get into good shape for the upcoming summer and everyone had a good time.

Beta Sigma North Dakota

Greetings from bitter cold North Dakota. The brothers of Beta Sigma would like to welcome our newly initiated members: Don Brophy, Mike Contos, Greg Cowan, Venkat Rerish S. Patel, Jeff Ploeger, and Shane Wendel. We would also like to congratulate our two newly signed pledges: Greg Bonn and Cory Christianson.

We elected our new officers at the beginning of this winter:

Regent .....	Peter Boldingh
Vice-Regent .....	Brad Morrison
Secretary .....	Chris Johnson
Treasurer .....	Dave Crolius
Membership Chair .....	Kirk Diepenbrock
Social Chair .....	Shawn Holm
House Manager .....	Troy Collins

Congratulations to the new officers.

During December Beta Sigma had our traditional party, Yulebachen, which is always a lot of fun. We also had a Christmas banquet and invited the NDSU College of Pharmacy faculty. As for our upcoming events, we are hosting the College of Pharmacy Dance at our house, we are anticipating another good turnout. Our winter term formal will be at the Townhouse Inn in Fargo on Valentines Day.

Our intramural football team took third place in a thirty five team field. We will soon be starting the volleyball season. However, we are really looking forward to the spring thaw and the start of the softball season.

Matt Paulson, past Regent and Vice-Regent left on New Years Day. He graduated after Fall quarter and has left to join the Real world. Matt is now working in Elko, Nevada. If any of the Brothers happen to meet him, please give him a warm Kappa Psi hello. We miss you Einstein and I'm sure some of the Beta Sigma brothers will be out to see you this spring.

We are looking forward to meeting everyone at Province VIII conclave, Creighton University.

Gamma Omega Arkansas

Things are a buzz in the Gamma Omega Chapter of Kappa Psi. With a new slate of officers and members, our Chapter is bubbling over with enthusiasm. As a Chapter, we have done a lot of internal remodeling this past year. With the advent of the Pharm D at UAMS, we not only gained a new degree but also an extra year. We plan to use this extra year as an opportunity to boost Kappa Psi to new heights.

We returned to school this year with a renewed vigor, thanks to the outstanding leadership of our new regent Scott Stanley. We started off the year with a bang by throwing a back to school Luau. We had a live band, pizza, and dancing. Dr. Walt Morrison, a faculty member of the college of Pharmacy, stated, "This is the best party of any kind that I have attended in the past twelve years." We hope that with this first impression, we will recruit a lot of pledges during Rush this semester.

In October, Kappa Psi worked with ARORA (Arkansas Regional Organ Recovery Agency), at the Arkansas State Fair. ARORA works in Arkansas to help patients needing transplants to get organs from potential donors.

In November, Kappa Psi followed through with its second annual "Joy of Giving" campaign. This campaign is a project in which Kappa Psi locates a needy family through the efforts of the Social Service Department here at UAMS. We provided a Thanksgiving meal for an elderly, disabled woman and her mother. The meal was financed through the donations of Kappa Psi members and College of Pharmacy faculty.

Coming up this Spring semester, Kappa Psi has a lot of activities slated, including a city wide "Clean Out Your Medicine Cabinet Day," Rush '92, a Spring CE program and finally our Spring formal. From the classroom to the community, expect to see great things from the Gamma Omega Chapter of Kappa Psi.

Gamma Nu University of the Pacific

Hello everybody and welcome back to another exciting article of the Kappa Psi, Gamma Nu Chapter at the University of the Pacific, Stockton. Our last semester was a most challenging one, both academically and professionally. As we started the year, our second vice-regent Gary Choy and our little sister liaison Mathew Zoolakis in coordination with all members of the Gamma Nu Chapter recruited a total of 32 new Little Sister Pledges. Our program included a variety of activities ranging from pot lucks at the House to HTN screening at many shopping malls. The new pledges showed enthusiasm and initiative in all respects. Wine and Cheese receptions, flowers, sweet treats and balloons were given by the Big Brothers and Big Sisters to the pledges for a job well done. The pledging program culminated with the pinning ceremony. After the initiation, a delicious cake and champagne was enjoyed by all. Cheers to a job well done.

The brothers of the Gamma Nu were also busy in a variety of professional events. Among them were visits to elderly homes, can food drive for the needy and hypertension screening. Most of these events were carried out under the coordination of brother Rudy Lamug and the help of local Pharmacies and Schools. A special project enjoyed by all was the brown bag day in which patients bring all of their medications to a booth set up by brothers, little sisters and local pharmacies. The objective was to clarify any doubts or questions people had about their medications. This project was a complete success and the Gamma Nu chapter was invited back to similar events. Another interesting project was the AIDS awareness lecture organized by brother Jose Siu who is also the coordinator of the AIDS awareness program for the ASP Professional Affairs at UOP. Guest speakers Ron Stockman and John McCartel from the San Joaquin AIDS Foundation were welcome by all. Students were most interested in vaccine development and the long term care of AIDS patients. Making grammar students aware of the many aspects of drug therapy was a job coordinated by brother David Ruud. For this project, Pharmacy students visited many local classrooms and talked to children about expiration dates, the sharing of medication among family members, the strength of medications etc. Kappa Psi brothers were among the most active people in this event and got special thanks from teachers and students.

As pledging time for new candidates approaches, the whole fraternity is involved in identifying potential individuals. A series of events were carried out last semester for this purpose. Halloween party, BBQs, Basketball games, pot lucks and table games were enjoyed by all. With the beginning of the spring semester, new plans and events are scheduled for the few, the proud, the brothers of Kappa Psi, Gamma Nu chapter.

Chi Chicago

The Brothers of Chi Chapter at the University of Illinois-Chicago had a hectic, but exciting Fall Semester, and are eagerly looking forward to a successful 1992. A large portion of the Fall was spent organizing the rushing process, and I am happy to report that we initiated 39 new Brothers after a "intense" pledge period. It was our largest pledge class since our chapter was reactivated. The latest editions to our family are: Connie Chen, Pauline Chow, Marc Cook, Ariel Del Raso, Bradley Gillespie, Danielle Gilliam, Geri Gudani, Kelly Ha, Muriel Hang, Milica

Fall activities went well. For Halloween, both pledges and actives went to several of the local pediatric wards to pass out candy. The kids really loved it, and it was a good outreach program. For Christmas, we took on a letter writing campaign for letters written to Santa Claus. What started out as a "fun" activity quickly turned into a community project, as most of the letters were requests for necessities, such as food and clothing. The program was quickly opened to the rest of the college, and several needy families were helped. Our chapter also sponsored a blood pressure in-service program, and plans for a visit to a nursing home are underway.

In January, Dr. Donald Waller, our faculty advisor, graciously open the doors of his home for a semester kick-off/alumni reunion. Several alumni attended, and a good time was had by all. Many other activities are in the works as we look forward to a great 1992!

Delta Gamma Auburn

Winter quarter has just begun for the brothers of Delta Gamma. We began by traveling to Tallahassee to visit the campus of Florida A&M for our annual Province meeting. We would like to announce the election of our brother, Cindy Woodard as Chaplain of our province. Everyone that attended had a great time and the word is out that Tallahassee is a great place to party. We would like to extend our thanks and congratulations to the Delta Iota for their excellent presentation and southern hospitality.

Last quarter we were glad to receive 27 new pledges. Their names are as follows: Linda Kay Birdsong, Dale Brazelton, Christy Coggin, Lara Daescher, Ron Dickson, Shannon Gallaspy, Terri Hahn, Katherine Harper, Nathan Holder, Leesa Hunt, Wendy Irvin, Amy James, Kimberly Braxton Johnson, Lori Keith, Theresa Langlass, Kamalakar Makarla, Kita Mappin, Tanya McGinnis, LuAnn Medlock, Vipul Patel, Kimberly Posey, Ginger Robinson, Brooks Taylor, Leigh Tremer, Danny Smitherman, James Edward (Jet) Turner, Kimberly Whitaker.

Our new pledge trainers, Melinda Mims and Jason Hodges, did an excellent job of showing the pledges the ropes before they were initiated last fall.

After the new brothers had been initiated they were assigned a big brother. In order to find out who their big brother was they had to find several pieces of a puzzle that was scattered around the pharmacy school one Friday night. At the end of the scavenger hunt was their big brother. We all had a lot of fun that night.

During our Christmas break, a former regent of ours and graduate brother of the year in our province, Claude Shumate, passed away. Claude was a 1991 graduate of Auburn University School of Pharmacy. There are not enough words to express all of the contributions that Claude made to our chapter. He was very active in establishing a new Kappa Psi Graduate Chapter of Auburn University. At the time of his death, he was regent of that chapter. Claude witnessed and contributed to a large growth in our chapter during his years at Auburn. He was a member of Rho Chi, Phi Lambda Sigma, and Kappa Psi. His senior year he was the recipient of the Asklepios Key. A Memorial Scholarship Fund is being set up in his name. We hope that through this fund, Claude's example that he set for us will forever remain in the halls of Auburn University. As one brother said with a smile, "Claude was a man who had literally eaten, breathed, and slept with Kappa Psi always in his heart." He will always have a place in the hearts of the brothers of Delta Gamma.

Last quarter we visited a local Nursing home and helped serve at their Christmas party. It was a lot of fun talking to the residents. We made a lot of new friends who we hope to visit again soon. We also hosted the annual Pharmacy School "Christmas Party." Mark Dyer, a Kappa Psi Alumnus from Samford University, was our DJ. He was great and so was the party. It was really cute when Mark had us gather not in a circle but in tablet form for the Hokey Pokey. Wendy Sizemore, our Vice Regent planned the party. Although her eyes were held open with toothpicks at two AM the night of the party, she stayed to see it end as a big success. Thanks Wendy!! Admission to the party was one can good per person which went to help needy families.

Love was in the air this past quarter. We would like to announce the marriage of our brother Dr. Daniel Parsons, and the engagements of brothers Wendy Irvin, Rhonda Guin, Melinda Mims and Clint Peevy.

In closing, we are planning many new activities this winter to keep us busy. We plan on having a winter formal, selling drug cards, having a "Founder's Day Banquet," and are tossing around ideas for Valentines Day. Until next time, goodbye from Delta Gamma.

Beta Upsilon Butler

Well, another busy semester has drawn to a close already. Beta Upsilon chapter was very busy this fall. We have an ongoing pledge program with initiation scheduled for February. We've enjoyed getting to know our pledges, and we are looking forward to initiating the survivors.

This semester was full of inter-chapter get-togethers! Several brothers journeyed up to Purdue for their Halloween party, Help Night, and initiation. In the process, we ran into buddies from Madison and Ohio Northern.

In mid-November, our chapter hosted the Province V Midyear Meeting, and many actives pitched in to make sure the hotel accommodations, food, and get-togethers were just right! Chapters in attendance included those from Purdue, University of Illinois at

Province V meeting, Chris Woo, Dan Degan, Brian Furbush, Jenny Donaldson, Debbie Schmidt.

Chicago, Madison, Ohio, Buffalo, Michigan (Gamma Chi and Mu Omicron Pi), and St. Louis. Thanks to everyone for coming—especially St. Louis, since they aren't even in Province V!!! National Officers Chris Woo, Brian Furbush, and Mike Steffens also attended, and we really enjoyed their company and input. Chris assisted with the ritual at our meeting, and Brian gave us a spur-of-the-moment chapter visitation that was an interesting, helpful, and educational experience for all!

Ted Underwood, Robbie Graybeal, and Greg Sacha placed high enough in the ASP Patient Counseling Competition to win some big, expensive USPDI's!! Good job!

The pledges and actives visited a nursing home during the holiday season and sang Christmas carols. A great time was had by all!

Our fundraisers included the traditional selling of Butler University College of Pharmacy sweatshirts. This is always a success! Our pledges have decided to add to the BUCOP fashion wardrobe by selling matching squeeze bottles.

Congratulations to Jenny Donaldson for being named to the National Ritual Committee! Congrats also to brothers Beth Sloan and Ken Berger, Amy Guy, Jason Bagley, Ed Schultz, Anita Riffey, Greg Sacha, and Dana Ramion and respective fiancées on becoming engaged!!! Finally, congratulations are also in order to former Regent Gordon Mann and his wife, who are expecting their first baby.

The new semester holds lots of excitement: several brothers are looking forward to attending the Province V Convention and the APhA Convention planning Disability Awareness Days, and Graduation!!

It is with sadness that we report the death of Beta Upsilon brother and Butler faculty member Dr. Terry Lee Hageboeck. He will be missed by all who knew him.

Delta Kappa Howard

Greetings to all Kappa Psi Brothers from the Delta Kappa Chapter at Howard University in Washington, DC. With the new year comes promising activities and new pledges to prepare for initiation. Our rush, which was January 22, proved to be very exciting. Those who were interested in Kappa Psi learned more about the Fraternity, socialized with the Brothers, and shared a good ole' spaghetti dinner, Italian-style.

Last year, we were proud to start off our "Save the Planet" project by collecting aluminum soda cans for recycling, and we began a "Clothes Drive" which focuses on collecting clothes to be distributed to the homeless. The Kappa Psi Newsletter, which is locally distributed to the Delta Kappa Brothers, had its first publication in October 1991. It keeps

This year, Delta Kappa has the privilege of hosting the 1992 Kappa Psi Province III Convention. It has been scheduled for March 20/22, and planning is currently underway. The five committees, which include housing, food, finance, seminar, and entertainment, are all working frantically to prepare a very cordial, informative, and fun-filled experience for those Brothers who wish to attend. Hope to see you there!

We also had a "Hoopin' with Kappa Psi" game. At the University's Health Fair, Beta Kappa had a booth to promote safe and effective eye care.

As the year changed, so did our Chapter's leaders. The new 1992 Executive Board includes:

The new Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity Policy Manual was sent to all Chapters, Grand Council Deputies, and Province Supervisors in January, 1992.

The manual is an excellent reference source and should be used frequently.

with the arrival of Nicole Zamorra transferring from Duquesne. Nicole has been a valuable addition to our chapter with her hard work and dedication to KΨ.

As 1991 falls to the wayside we are springboarding into a new semester. Spring semester is when we will hold our fundraising events. A trip for two to the Bahamas was raffled off during the first week of the semester; the event raised $250. Our largest fundraiser, the annual KΨ ad book, allows graduate brothers and local businesses to place advertisements in our publication. This event raises over $4,000 annually, which sets us up nicely for the rest of the year's events. These events include the Snowshoe, W. Va., ski trip, spring rush functions, the Myrtle Beach trip and the gala event of events, the Kappa Psi/Kappa Epsilon formal. Theta Chapter is looking forward to attending the Province III meeting in March, in hopes of seeing many of the brothers in attendance.

Beta Xi North Carolina

As we look forward to a prosperous Spring semester, the brothers of Beta Xi extend greetings to you all. The previous semester was simply chocked full of events and engagements involving the brotherhood. Perhaps one of our greatest undertakings of the year involved the first annual Kappa Psi Health Fair at Northgate Mall in Durham. This event included everyone, even faculty brothers, giving advice on medications, screening blood pressure, and presenting videos on living with diabetes and other diseases. We all look forward to the next one in the fall.

The brothers entertain rushees at Beta Xi's annual rushee steak dinner. Special credit to our in-house dietician Randy Frazier.

In our rush this semester we reaped the benefits of fourteen new brothers and are expecting great things for this semester also. The new brothers are: Phillip Bozovich, Mark Brown, Tommy Bruen, John Chitla, Jin Woo Jun, Brent Lawson, John Mims, Mark Moore, Steve Odell, Jay Plyler, Andy Starkey, Matthew Thompson, Leigh Waddell, and Chris Williams.

Gamma Pi St. Louis

Greetings from Gamma Pi! The spring semester is underway and we have been very busy! So you ask, "What's new with Gamma Pi?" Well, turn your calendar back to 1991 and think about that four-letter word—snow! At our December formal meeting/Christmas party Gamma Pi inducted its new officers for 1992. Congrats to our brothers:

Regent.....Tommy Smith
 Professional Vice-Regent.....Julia Rayniak
 Social Vice-Regent...Joanne Westmoreland
 Secretary.....Debbie Kopp
 Treasurer.....Andrea Krewet

Historian.....Amy Cook
 Chaplain.....Chris Brown
 Sergeant-at-Arms.....Erik Muser
 Graduate Liaison.....Joanne Westmoreland
 Pledgemaster.....Pete Phillips
 Pledgemaster.....Julia Rayniak

Our new officers met over semester break and showed great enthusiasm on upcoming events and some new ideas. Also, a special thanks to our out-going officers for a great year in 1991.

Other Christmas activities included delivering fruit baskets to students in the dorm and helping celebrate the holidays at our neighborhood Frasier nursing home.

Semester break was good to us all, and we came back to St. Louis ready for the excitement of pledging. January brought us a successful "smoker" where we wine and dined prospective pledges in hopes of getting to know them and showing them what KAPPA PSI has to offer personally and professionally. By the time this is printed Gamma Pi will have inducted its all new 1992 pledge class, but you'll have to wait for the next issue to find out who all these great people are. Kudos to the pledging committee and pledge masters brother Pete Phillips and brother Julia Rayniak for a job well done!

Other upcoming events include our second blood drive of the year, numerous fund raisers, and more BINGO. We are organizing to sponsor another record-breaking blood drive. Fund raisers will include the sale of drug cards, pizza, and chili. And the BINGO—well, it's a favorite with our friends at Frasier Nursing Home.

Last but not least, many of us are scrounging up our last few pennies as we prepare to jet off to sunny Austin, TX for the 1992 KAPPA PSI Province VII Convention. Hope to see you there!

— Amy Cook

Beta Rho Mississippi

Now that the new year is upon us, it is time to look forward to what this year holds in store for Beta Rho. We will be initiating twenty eight pledges this month. We will also be electing new officers within the next few weeks.

The brothers of Beta Rho are looking forward to getting our Adopt a Friend program underway this semester. This will allow us to interact with a local mental retardation facility and spend time with the patients there. Also Beta Rho will continue our Adopt a Highway program.

In conclusion, we are looking forward to attending the Province VII convention in Austin, Texas.

A Tribute to Claude

When Grand Regent Johnny Porter asked me to write this column to benefit our fraternity, I thought it would be easy. As I sat at my home ready to begin, waiting for divine inspiration to guide my thoughts, I could only draw a blank.

The light bulb goes on!! Just a couple days ago, I received a letter from Brother Aimee Shumate which informed me that her husband, Brother Claude Shumate has passed away. At first, I could not believe what I was reading for he had just graduated from Auburn University School of Pharmacy in May of 1991, pass the boards, and began his new job. Claude was a Delta Gamma initiate at Auburn University. I had the good fortune to meet this Brother at the 1990 Province IV Assembly. At that time, he was the Regent of Delta Gamma and I was serving as Province Supervisor/Graduate Member at Large.

He struck me as a highly motivated individual with his asking questions such as how to improve his undergraduate chapter and how to begin a graduate chapter. Many Brothers ask how to begin a graduate chapter but very few take the time and personal sacrifice to follow it through. Starting a Graduate Chapter is my area of expertise and I was excited about the possibilities. With the help of such an ambitious Brother, I realized this could come true. Hearing this fireworks went off in my head and a smile came to my face. This was a dream come true, an opportunity to create a new graduate chapter (my first new chapter) and the first in Province IV.

Over 18 months we worked together, writing letters and making phones. Actually, Claude did the work, I made the suggestions. It was fascinating to watch the birth and progress of this idea come to pass, week by week and month by month. Following hard work by the Auburn Alumni: one year of meetings, mailings, updating mailing lists, and finally, submitting By-laws, the Executive Committee of Kappa Psi approved their chartering at the Grand Council Convention in August.

I know the trials and tribulations he/we went through to get the graduate chapter off the ground. One can only imagine the struggle that Claude, his wife and family endured over the last few months of his illness. My prayers are with all of them.

This Fraternity needs more Brothers like Brother Claude Shumate!! Brothers to get involved by making time in their lives to undertake a project such as organizing a graduate chapter or just being active in the fraternity beyond our undergraduate days. Claude Shumate loved Kappa Psi, this love was shown by his actions, actions that spoke louder than any words. He worked hard to charter this graduate chapter, to give the alumni of his area a life in Kappa Psi after graduation. He never gave up through the 18 months of his dream to begin the Auburn Graduate Chapter. In his memory, I would like to reprint a poem from an unknown author:

“DON’T QUIT.”

WHEN THINGS GO WRONG, as they sometimes will,
When the road you’re trudging seems all up hill,
When funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must—but don’t you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,

As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;

Don’t give up, though the pace seems slow—

You might succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man,
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor’s cup.

And he learned too late, when the night slipped down

How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out—
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt—
And you never can tell how close you are,

It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you’re hardest hit—

It’s when things seem worst that you mustn’t quit.
